

THE BOSTON MEETING

Northeastern Mosquito Control Association and American Mosquito Control Association

The Northeastern Mosquito Control Association is proud to host the joint meeting with the American Mosquito Control Association on April 20-23, 1976, at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, Boston, Massachusetts 02119.

Because AMCA has not met in Boston since 1960 and the conference is scheduled at the height of the Bicentennial Celebration, a record attendance is anticipated. On April 21 the scheduled program will begin at 8:00 a.m. and adjourn at 1:00 p.m. so that the delegates may join their wives and families for an afternoon and evening "to do the town." A full program has been planned for the ladies, and as there is so much of historic interest to witness in Boston an organized shopping tour will be omitted.

Registration information will be mailed to all, but if you wish early reservations at the Sheraton-Boston, the telephone number is 617-236-2000. That you may benefit from the convention rates, do not neglect to reserve as a delegate to the American-Northeastern Mosquito Control Associations joint conference. There are, of course, many excellent hotels in the city and its suburbs and some of these will be listed in a subsequent mailing.
