EDITOR'S CORNER

With the first issue of Volume 22, Mosquito Systematics has undergone a face lift which we hope will prove more attractive to subscribers and authors. The double column format will insure a uniformity in appearance for all papers, and will overcome the objections of those who objected to the lack of same in past issues. This change will make Mosquito Systematics similar to the format used in AMCA's Journal. The blue cover will be retained and the larger size will remain. However, unlike the Journal, authors are not required to be members of AMCA in order to submit papers.

Some significant changes have been made in procedures involved in submitting and processing papers. Potential authors are urged to read the "Instructions to Contributors" (located on inside back cover) carefully before submitting papers.

Due to increased expenses involved in publishing Mosquito Systematics it has become necessary to increase page charges to $35 per page. This charge will also include plates and illustrations. Reprint charges have been increased over present rates.

These new charges, which are listed on the inside back cover, will go into effect immediately. However, papers which are in press or have already been received by the Editor will be charged at the old rates.
