Professor Sereno Watson,

May 8th. 1891.

Botanic Garden,

Cambridge, Mass.

My dear Sir:-

Mandarin, I have just received your kind favor of the 6th instant and thank you for your long and courteous letter and for the corrections in the copy of MSS which I sent you. I am very glad to have the explanation in reference to the fig flowers.

Yes, I am familiar with the two works you refer to, of Solms-Laubach and of Mr. King. If you have occasion to refer to the little Tortricid infesting bilocularis you may refer to it as Grapholitha sebastianiae, as I will so describe it.

Yours very truly,

C.V. Riley.

Riley, Charles V. 1891. "Riley, Charles V. May 8, 1891 [to S. Watson]." Asa Gray correspondence
