MUSEUM OF COMPARATIVE ZOOLOGY, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Nov 22/86.

My dear Mr Fay

I need no urging to lay the claims of any of our workers before the Corporation and you may be sure that in Huxley's case I shall do all in my power to bring the Corporation to your view. There is no one among the kinetists but who deserves a free salary more than he does and no one who ought to be considered as favorably as <sup>can</sup> Huxley, for his devotion. The salary is more than useful. The matter of the salary is settled among up some of the new Corporation meetings and there being paid to him up the subject and that consequently

I am
