

New York 25th Aug 1818

My dear friend

You left me starting for a Journey, which I achieved with difficulty, but was taken down the same afternoon with intermittent fever. However good nursing, fresh Hill Air, & large doses of Quinine & Ammonia that almost made me light-headed, set me up again in a few days; & I recreated very much before my Return to town.
City Life has rather pulled me back again, but still "I smell the Rose above the Mount" once more, as poor Tom Hood sings, & a sober second thought makes me wish for the Jet of California Plants, you were good enough to order for me.
So please send them along on arrival. — John got quite strong & cheerful in the Country, & has been very comfortable since his Return to town, keeping me company in my Bachelor Estate.
I hope you have not forgot my Wish about Herb^m Paper for him, which I know would be acceptable to him in his present Leisure. — He showed me your last kind Letter: my own Inclinations point to his stay here, but my Judgment tells me he would be happily employed, if occupied in his darling Study, & I counsel him

Prof. A. Gray
Harvard College
Cambridge
Mass.

Carey, Samuel Thomas. 1848. "Carey, Samuel T. Aug. 25, 1848." Asa Gray correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/221765>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/259278>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Arcadia 19th Century Collections Digitization/Harvard Library

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The Library considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection

License: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.