

My Dear Friend,

I ought before any one else to have sent to you a copy of my further book. You have doubtless seen enough of it yourself; but you have not heard, as often as you ought, how much I am obliged to you for your constant kindness and most valuable assistance in every thing relating to the volume -

This should have been sent to you yesterday; but the employment of every one in the house from a little entertainment we gave to the children prevented -

Ever very truly

Geo. B. Emerson.
