

East Chester 14 April 1857

My dear friend I thank you sincerely for the agreeable Reminiscences I received from you in the shape of Planted Wright's P. 2, Tussie's Letters, & your own kind Letter of 17 Feb. — In the latter you desire me to jog your Memory in the latter half of April, & that as the result I might hope for some Seeds & Roots of herbaceous Plants. — They will be so acceptable that at the risk of giving you trouble I take you at your Word. — As I wean myself gradually from the bustling City, I find my Garden & Greenhouse increasing comfort, tho' I cannot as yet boast of a very great diversity of Species; still I have a number of interesting Plants, enough to keep attention alive throughout the Year. — "Beggars should not be Choosers" is a fit & pretty Proverb; however I would just mention that I have sought in vain in the Nurseries about N.Y. for our H. Ann —

Species of Thermopsis & Baptisia (except B. austriaca) which are all favorites of mine, & any of them or of any of the Texan Mimosa's that may happen to be superfluities among the Plants Harvardians & as such may find their way into the Basket you send me, will be particularly welcome. — However for the rest my Taste is quite cosmopolitan, & I welcome any Beauty of the temperate Zones from whichever Continent it may have strayed. — When you next visit New York it would please me very much if you can find time to spend a day with me in my old farmhouse, Hall of old long since, tho' I expect my limping Carcase & gray Hairs will require a fresh Introduction to you: I doubt if you would recognise your old friend in passing. — Deo Gratias, I have vegetated thru' this long & severe Winter, but with great suffering at Intervals from the disordered Nerves of my Head, resulting from my Accident.
My Small & Paste have not yet returned, & sudden Changes of Temperature destroy all proper nervous Action in the wounded parts of my Head & face. — My Wife & 5 Brats thank God are all well. I continue to hear good account of Brother John: he is a very busy man once again, the weight of the Business of his House being upon his Shoulders; & that, & a young Wife who seems dotingly fond of him, leaving him I suppose little time for Botany. I dipped into Miss Premer's Book lately, which I do not think will add much to her laurels as an Authorress. I was pleased to note that "Kind & agreeable Prof. Gray" was only embalmed for Immortality in it. — My wife joins me in good wishes & regards. Believe me affectionately & sincerely S. T. Cary

I have a letter from Feudler who is living at Caracas, & is thinking of going into the Camphine Business. — His address is A. Feudler, Caracas, Care of Kekelmann Lucc & Co., La Guayra.
Any thing you send me, please send to Cary & Co., Kincet by Express.
