

Botanischer Garten zu Hamburg

den Mai 9

1850.

My dear friend!

The bearer of the present is Mr. J. F. Drège, who will not be unknown to you as an excellent collector and discoverer of many new plants on his voyages in South-Africa. — As Mr. Drège is intending to go to North-America to collect plants and seeds for Germany I have exclusively addressed him to the illustrious Author of the Flora of North-America (which Mr. Drège has already zealously studied) to learn by yourself the best way for his purpose. I dare certainly hope from your often tried complaisance to assist Mr. Drège in every case with your counsel so important to him, and address him to the convenient persons, whom nobody will better know than you. —

I repeat my sincerest thanks as for the first volume of your excellent genera, as for the plants of Fendler which you have destined me. Both have made me a great joy. I thereby note, that I did not find the packet of dried plants which you would send me at the same time for Dr. Vahl at Copenhagen. —

I now avail myself of this opportunity by sending you a collection of the Plants of Dr. Presl, which I had kept back for you. You will find the names and descriptions thereof in my Enumeratio Plantarum, quas collegit Dr. Presl. I also join the Synopsis Repetitoria, in which I am not insignificantly concerned, and some of my Pugilli, requesting you to indicate me, what you should further desire to receive from me.

The botany in Europe has suffered great losses. Erdlicben has poisoned himself, Kuhn has cut his throat and Koch, the best known of the German Flora, has died by bad medical treatment by his son in law, Schimper by a strong cancer caught. Link, Nees of Speyer and Travisanum are very old and among the younger German botanists are,
I regret to say - but very few who intitle to greater hopes.

In repeat of my last letter, that I received from J. D. Boott, the Potentilla trusted me for inspection by yourself and J. D. Torrey only on the 2<sup>d</sup> July 1849. I sent them back to London on the 8th July, and hope therefore they will now again be in your possession.

Believe me, most faithfully and affectionately

Yours,
L. L. L.

To

Dr. A. A. Gray

Professor of natural history in Harvard University etc. etc.

Boston,

Lehmann, Johann Georg Christian. 1850. "Lehmann, J. G. C. May 9, 1850." Asa Gray correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/223796>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/262232>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Arcadia 19th Century Collections Digitization/Harvard Library

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The Library considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.