

His eyes are fairly open to the state & the case.

As to what he writes, Mr. Natum says he will not bear his name as joint author - it is to be Mr. James & Lesquereux, monument. - And he will have not a cut of poor Lesquereux's money.

What a pity you were abroad — also, we ~~want~~ ^{wish} you the good time you & your daughter are having. I had you remain at home. You might — after a ~~late~~ ^{have} due a good part of the editing & proof-reading, and help us through along immensity.

As to your seeing a bookseller or publisher in London — I think you should put write to Camino about it — the publication as sole being entirely in his hands. He might be very glad if you could open the way to an English sale. — Well, only now for Happy New Year to you & Mrs — ~~see you~~ — A. Gray

HERBARIUM OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY,

BOTANIC GARDEN, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Dec. 31, 1883

11. P.M.

My dear Mr. James,

In this world we are allowed space for repentence and amendment of life "while the lamp holds out to them"; and Mrs. Gray and I propose to avail ourselves of it — as respects our sins of mis-tion against you, in those last hours of the year 1883.

We are both penitent at finding that our acknowledgement has been sent for the really beautiful Photographs — which came safely (except as to the glass, which has been replaced), and which is much admired.

The blame must be divided between Mrs. Gray & me. But, we are getting old, and we are keeping our hands too full for old people

Well, Mr. Gray will pack up as well as she can. She is ~~not~~ as strong as she was. - and now strong women, members of large families and serving in many & widely scattered parts, actually survive the torts and trials of the Xmas. and New Year season, is more than I can tell. -

I think that, in the long run, the women will die out. a few miserable men will linger a while - and then an ~~end~~ end, -

But you will say - cut short your moralizing - or demoralizing, and tell me about the Moss-book

Well, Mr. Watson tells me it is now going on rather monthly & other part. -

Thanks to you. We have felt that Mr. Garrison & Lesquereux long labors must not be lost -- must not come before the scientific world as they would if left to poor Lesquereux. - who we found was printing his book before it was written -- and in fact who did not know how to prepare his talk for the press. - who was, besides - in the literature of our Moms leaving out, dropping stitches here and there. Mr.
Watson dreaded the work & was better and so the time. But when he takes up a thing, he must do it well. I suppose full half this time - or near it - for three months has been given to this moss-work - and as Lesquereux says - it is going to be something a deal different from what it would have been otherwise.

I think I had best send you Lesquereux letter to me lately received - written now that

Gray, Asa. 1883. "Gray, Asa Dec. 31, 1883 [to Isabella B. James]." Asa Gray correspondence : letters from Asa Gray to various individuals

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/225451>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/262408>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Arcadia 19th Century Collections Digitization/Harvard Library

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The Library considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection

License: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.