

To Buckingham Hall H.

Cambridge, Mass.

May 21, 1915.

Dear Mr. Deane,

The laboratory work in Boltony's suffers greatly by reason of insufficient space in the laboratory. Only half as much space is now available as when Dr. Goodale had the course. When Dr. Goodale retired Professor Jeffrey stated that he had been authorized by President Eliot to take half of the Boltony's laboratory for his work. The result is that

Two sections have to be conducted simultaneously in the same room, despite a temporary partition, which is put up to separate them, all that is said in one section is heard by the other and the men must sit four or seven at a table.

Doubtless this will be remedied when the work is moved to Prince Hall but this removal will not affect another and much more serious difficulty I refer to the necessity of turning over the direction of the laboratory work to untrained assistants. Much of my time is taken up in training these men but as a rule it must be done all over again.

with a new set the following year.
As most of our graduate students come from other colleges the majority of the assistants in Botany¹ are men who have not had the course in Harvard and who are unfamiliar with our aims and methods.

(It is highly desirable that provision be made for an instructor who shall remain for a number of years and give his entire time to the course during the second term. If the Corporation is unwilling to bear this expense it might begin with another assistant, to be paid for hundred dollars, in addition to the sums already devoted to assistance. The duties of this assistant would be to superse all the laboratory work, visiting all the sections in turn.

He would not, therefore, take the place of any of the assistants now employed. I should, of course, continue to visit the sections myself as often as possible.)

I have stated my views somewhat at length knowing that you would know how to condense them for the purposes of your report.

Yours sincerely,

M. J. T. Osterhout
