

Randoef's 16 August.

Dear Mr. Deane —

mt. Carbon (or Calabo as the maps in Swartzeis Guide, Ed. of 1881 spell it) appears to be on the line between Mason and Inglebury Academy Grant. As most of the mountain seems to be in the latter I imagine that the summit is probably in that also.

We had a nice trip up Stellman Mountain and a fine view from the top, long just after we had climbed there it was obscured by a rain storm. It cleared as we were descending, however. At the station we saw Professor Fay, who came on the train with us to Gorham. We walked home by some variations from the regular route, through the gorge of the Moose R. (avoiding Gorham Hill) and reached here about 7 am., all in good shape. It was fine to see you all at Stellman and my mother and Mrs. Pease and Mrs. Taylor were much interested in my account. With best regards, A. S. P.
