Dear W.D.:—

I was most happy to hear from you, and was just on the point of dropping you a line to tell you how the Flora progresses. I have made galley proof for all the introduction and for the catalogue part up to Pyrola, so you see I am getting on. There will be the rest of the galley and looking over page proof and getting the numbers put into the index, and other such matters.

Now I have noted a reference about which you can perhaps give me help. Wiegand in Rhod. 25 (1923), 191, states that Thellium Cernuum makes Cass County, but cites no specimens. I seem to have no record of it, and I should be much interested to know whether I have misinterpreted a specimen of it as something else or whether some specimen has come in which I have not seen. Don't forget M.L.F. about it, but if you are in the Herbarium room would you look at the H.B.C., and the Gray Herb. under this species and tell me what you find from Cass — also if you have any of it is given here. There may not be a change to get it into the text, but I might make an addendum of it, if it really turns up.

The printing of the ms. looks pretty well and I am much pleased by the pains that Glover Allen has taken in his editorial work, though had I known one or two details about the B.S.N.H. rules I could have made the ms. in such a way that there would have been much less work for him to do on it.

With the presidency of three societies, of which two meet monthly, and getting the flora prep read and then of the last part of my Cicero (200 pages) and finishing up an article and planning for a chapter on the plants of Randolph for the four history planned for the 100th anniversary (this year), and beginning work on a large edition of the fourth book of the Aeneid, and teaching my classes, supervising the theses of three graduate students, and managing the classical museum, my time is full enough to keep me from ennui! I expect to be in Randolph before and after the summer school.

Regards from us all,

Tristly,

A.S.P.
