

McGILL UNIVERSITY,
MONTREAL.

BOTANICAL LABORATORY

D. P. PENHALLOW, D.SC., PROFESSOR.
C. M. DERICK, M.A., ASSIST. PROFESSOR.

January 12th., 1909

My dear Mr. Deane.

It is a long time since I have heard from you or seen you, but upon my return to the City a few days since, I found a note from you, and since then have received a second. I have been on a hunt for that note on Pinus rigida which I cannot as yet locate, and I begin to doubt if I really did publish anything, although it is running in my mind that I did. I shall have another look, and if successful will forward the reference. I have, however, found a note (Garden & Forest, Oct. 17th., 1894, p. 419) on Cerhalanthus occidentalis at Shelburne, on which you have a note in a recent Rhodora, and in this you may be interested.

I had to take a short rest from overwork this last December, so cut for Shelburne where I spent the Christmas time with my wife and son, and had one of the finest outings I ever enjoyed. Our friend Philbrook was the same as of old, and both weather and scenery were all that could be asked for. Of course I heard of you while there, and should have sent you all kind greetings for the New Year had I not heard from you, and now do so with double pleasure.

Cordially yours,

O. P. Penhallow

Penhallow, D. P. 1909. "Penhallow, David Pearce Jan. 12, 1909." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/252349>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/269978>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.