

Maplehurst Farm,
Lancaster, Mass., Nov. 7th 1912

Dear Mr. Deane

If all your journals are as interesting as the specimen you sent me, they certainly should be published.
I can't tell you what pleasure
it gave me.

I send a check for the Rhodora deficit. You can say it was given by Outes
(I have forgotten where the accent goes)

You are wrong in thinking I don't take it. I have it sent to our Town library.

I hope Friday, 13th will be a good day, otherwise it will be laid on my guests.

Affectionately Yours
J. T. I.

Dear Ned,

I thought you'd like to see Col. Thayer's letter.

I am very fond of him.

I copied out and sent him
an acct of a day spent at Audubon's home on Perkins Creek near Platte. in 1909.

It was an A. O. U. gathering.

and was a rare occasion.

I sent him a little booklet

given us on that trip - I had an extra one.

Thayer, John Eliot. 1912. "Thayer, John Eliot Nov. 7, 1912." Walter Deane correspondence
