

New York Botanical Garden,
Bronx Park,
New York City.

November 8th, 1909.

Mr. J. F. Collins,

Providence, Rhode Island.

Dear Mr. Collins:-

Only a common species but it made me realize that I had not heard from you for a long time! What are you doing? Where have you been? Are you still studying Polytrichum? Are you going to help us on North American Flora? We had Dr. A. LeRoy Andrews here last summer ~~here~~ for two months on one of our research scholarships and am rejoiced at the same way in which he looks at Sphagnums. Mr. Williams also has reduced all of Kindberg's divagations in Dicranum, and is struggling with Cypris.

Continues, which have been much misinterpreted.

Cordially yours,

E. S. Britton

if so what genus?

Are you going to Boston in June.

Britton, Elizabeth G. 1909. "Britton, Elizabeth G. Nov. 8, 1909." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258556>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/273551>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.