

We go to Philbrook Farm, Shelburne, N.H., the middle of next week for the whole season, and I shall depend on your cards. They are friendly & most welcome. I'll send you greetings too, and keep you informed.
(That's part of the pleasure of leaving good friends).
I love

Walter Deane

Cambridge
June 2 1914.

Dear Brother Collins,

Yours of May 31 was received the first day of Summer, June 1 - I fully understand all you say.
You see I have been,
in one way or another, considerable in regard to our mutual friend and so I perhaps wondered a bit too much -

The reason I don't send my short notice to you was because I asked you at the College if you would not like to add something in refer to your connection with W.H.B., in his college work, and you said you didn't think there was anything to say.

so I left it. Well, don't expect much, but I don't see how you can find anything wrong, although much more might perhaps be said.

I'll see you Friday evening surely and we'll have a talk. I shall take a number of sheets for exhibition with me.
I promised Ware I'd do that -

Deane, Walter. 1914. "Deane, Walter June 2, 1914." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258625>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/273853>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.