

468 Hope Street,
Providence, R.I.

15 Mar. 1912.

Dr. W. G. Farlow,
24 Quincy Street,
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Dr. Farlow:-

Recently I have had a few opportunities, Sundays and evenings, to get back to my old love, the mosses, for an hour or two at a time.

In looking over some mosses I find that I have probably not sent you some specimens that I intended to long ago. I am sending three of these at this time. I hope they will be of some interest to you, at least geographically. When I get the time to overhaul some other boxes I know I shall find others that will eventually go in your direction.

I have been wondering if there is any bryological news of interest to me. The only thing I can recall is the announcement of a forthcoming part of the North American Flora on Sphagnaceae, etc., by Andrews, Mrs. Britton, et al.

I presume you have been as busy as usual since I last saw you.

Very truly yours,

Collins, J. Franklin. 1912. "Collins, James Franklin Mar. 15, 1912 [Collins to Farlow]." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258622>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/274204>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.