

Cambridge, Feb. 24, 1894.

My dear Mr. Collins:

Your letter of a few weeks ago describing the road to Mt. Pigelow makes me impatient to get out into the field again. Can we not get at the mountain together next summer? You know more or less about the country, and can tell the most economical way to do it. I shall probably be free after the middle of June; the last of July, I have promised to spend on the Sandy River, primarily about Farmington. The rest of the summer is not yet planned for, though I have several short excursions in mind.

If you think such a trip as
I suggest would be practicable,
I wish you would let me know.

Sincerely yours
Newell Lyndon Fernald.
43 $\frac{1}{2}$ Langdon St.

Fernald, Merritt Lyndon. 1894. "Fernald, Merritt L. Feb. 24, 1894." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258622>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/274271>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.