

Hastings Hall,
Cambridge, Mass.

Jan. 26, 1899

My dear Collins:

You and your mother are extremely kind, and if, when I get to Providence, it is still convenient for you to entertain me I can't resist your kind invitation. I feel though, that you are doing a great deal more for me than I am able to return.

Thank you, too, for offering to meet me at the train. I have a number of things which I shall have to attend to here Saturday morning so that it is now impossible for me to say with certainty just when I can leave. So I think it would be better for you not to trouble about meeting me, and when I get to Providence - by 11 o'clock I should think, - I will go immediately to the Herbarium.

Cordially yours
Nemitt L. Truoad

Fernald, Merritt Lyndon. 1899. "Fernald, Merritt L. Jan. 26, 1899." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258622>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/274321>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.