

THE PINES, BLUE HILL, READVILLE, MASS.

16 Feb 1903

Dear Collins,

I find a train
reaching Providence at 8.58 AM, I will take that if agreeable
to you, unless the day is wet & stormy.
The beautiful weather
last week would make one forget
the chances of rain.

I suspect the Splachium roseum
is a slip for
S. rubrum: I looked it up after reading
the Rhodora article (Thaxter asked me)

and no such species
is given in "Paris"
Index Bryologicus.

I think some parts of French & Schimper
may have been translated into French
during the issue of the several parts that make up the whole work. I have such a translation of the Sphagnum part.

As you give a French
title in "Bryologie d'Europe" I suppose
yours are in French

I am planning to spend the summer in England & want to have a talk with you particularly about Cameras.

very truly yrs

Geo. L. Kennedy

P. S. Like a lady's, the most important part of the letter.

Insert in first paragraph Wednesday
the 15th for the day.
and don't bother to meet me at the train as I can take car up to your house.

Kennedy, George G. 1903. "Kennedy, George G. Mar. 16, 1903." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258528>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/275090>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.