

28 Dec 1914

THE PINES, BLUE HILL, READVILLE, MASS.

Dear Mr Collins,

Many thanks for your very pretty & Equivally delicate Xmas card: it is one of the choice ones, and reminds me of you in those days when I used to watch you prepare a moss for study in your little den.

As for me I began too late in life to get as much out of my Bryology as I should:
So I am glad you did not live to be over fifty before you started in — Of late I have hardly looked at a moss principally because my eyes won't let me have any place if I attempt any work.

I have often thought how much I would like to have an old time chat with you and have been studying the train calendar to see how best you could come, but do not find any convenient p m train that makes stop at Readville.

Perhaps some day when you can arrange either for a morning call + lunch here perhaps you can study out a convenient train - as for me I very seldom go in town so that any day you might select would in all probability do very well for me.

I have nothing on hand for Friday Jan 1st and it is Botanical Club night too so if you select that day I should be very glad to greet you, hoping that no severe snow storm my present self I am

Sincerely yours
Geo L Kennedy

Kennedy, George G. 1914. "Kennedy, George G. Dec. 28, 1914." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258528>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/275151>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.