

M. Verde Jan 4th 1861

My Dear Dr

On the 31st ult. I received yours of the 10th Nov. with Watson & Sullivants notes & the jubilation over the triumph of black-republicanism. You might have spared me that for I got it long ago & it will not be likely to produce conviction nor conversion. I doubt if there is the same glorification now unless you are all gone mad. God grant that the great North-west may view the case in its true light & not bow down to petty fanatical New-England. When they find the great artery of the West cut off to their trade or at least obstructed they may repent too late. I do hope concessions may be made in time to prevent a separation but the latest intelligence (11th ult.) I have gives a very gloomy picture of the future. That the south have a right to withdraw. I have not a doubt. A forced union!!! Just think of it the marriage of a dog & a cat!! I am rather sorry Carolina has been so hasty & yet I do not know but it is the best course that she could have taken.

I found Mr. L. at Nouvelle Sophie thin but cheerful & improving in health. I remained till he set out for this place - then went to Charles L's - a nephew - about two leagues

The first day I made an excursion of any length a pair of new shoes skinned my ankles

So as to lay me up. To improve the time I came here to ~~get~~ ^{put} my licences renewed for the ensuing (the present) year & to get my letters. But a parcel of letters (a second one) was despatched to Paganini though I wrote to H. Descaulle in time I thought to prevent him from sending them they crossed me on the way probably. I have written to have them sent back. There may be one of yours among them. I intended to return ^{to Dr. Lee} immediately. But H. L. is about to cut a piece of wood & I wait to see if I can get any thing new from the fallen trees. Another neighbor also is tumbling down the "mountain" & day after tomorrow (Monday) I propose to go to the latter place - afterwards to Henry's. When return to Charles. He is going also to cut timber & I want to improve the occasion to collect in those localities.

I presume your snore of books 'lenses' &c is by this time in Cuba. So you too shall learn that my grumbling was as I expressed it "gas." If he is deluding himself with that idea & supposing that I am collecting for him Diatoms while he with a persistency which I never saw equalled doges a simple question the sooner you undeceive him the better. I shall ~~not~~ waste no more time/paper/ink in vain efforts to get information from him.

In one of my later letters I told you when I came to M. V. I would settle the question about the "4 big Dictionaries" so here you have it in your letter (referred to you) that you may have ocular demonstration) ~~I~~ dated May 7th a couple of lines from one written two days earlier

I think I rather got you down on the question about the mats & blankets of moss I am pretty certain of it as to Anastrophora but in this case you are floundering "for certain" I am not quite so Hallstaffer as you supposed & do not open see "9 men in a buckram"

You must be frozen up I think for your last is dated Nov 10th & I can learn that any number later than Dec 1st of the Courier des Elat Unis has been received. This often comes in twelve to fifteen days. I believe on second thoughts I am wrong about your letter. I think a later one came to me at St. Sophie but how it got ahead of this I am unable to tell. I left it at Charles - so am not able to say any thing positive about it.

From Eaton's letter I can not make out whether his domicile is 241 or 291. So what little I have to say to him I can do down here. The explanation which he has given for making partial sets of the ferns is just what suggested itself to me but I did not believe nor do I know that the mixture was so great as to make so many deficient sets. If I remember right there were about 250 packages sent on. Suppose 10 per cent of them were duplicates & I can hardly believe there were more. That would leave 225 species. Again suppose there were 15 per cent of them mixed. There would remain about 200 parcels unmixed. Of these in my opinion there ought not to have been more than ¹⁰ percent imperfect leaving somehow more than ¹⁸⁰ full ~~sets~~ parcels. Now I collected for 40 sets. You seem to have renewed them to 34. So that they ought to hold out better than my calculation would make them & this would make nearly 30 full sets. I have ~~no~~ no knowledge how many full sets were made. not very many I fear when they fall off so that No 25 is only 202. The measure could not have been very extensive or it would have increased in an equal proportion the no. of sp. I guess Eaton has been hair-splitting & I think I can put my finger right on one very variable Adiantum of which he has made perhaps half a dozen sp.

6th. This morning I ate part of an apple from a tree which I brought here two years ago & which is now growing in Mr. L's garden. It was small but had the real apple flavor.

Yours sincerely
