

GRAY HERBARIUM OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY,

BOTANIC GARDEN, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.,

Sept. 28, 1895.

My dear Dr. Robinson;

I enclose a letter from Dr. Rose which came for you a day or two ago.

I have already begun on the Palmer Lamapets—while waiting to hear from Curtis in regard to one or two of his things.

Miss Burnham is back and at present working over some of the piles upstairs. She will soon make a distribution of what has gathered since she left.

Judge Churchill writes that he is anxiously awaiting the Synoptical flora, which will be more exciting than a novel."

Mr. Deane has just got back from Wells, and yesterday spent the afternoon here.

Mr. & Mrs. Jones have started housekeeping on Hammond Street.

Richards' place at the museum and at Radcliffe has been given to Sweetser (Jones's double except in looks).

The college year has opened with a general increase in numbers.
Every dormitory room is taken & Memorial is filled (1200) with a waiting-list of over 600.

All send regards and hope your trip is still proving as delightful as it was at first.

Faithfully yours
Merritt Lyndon Fernald.

Fernald, Merritt Lyndon. 1895. "Fernald, Merritt Lyndon Sept. 28, 1895 [Fernald to B.L. Robinson]." Merritt Lyndon Fernald correspondence
