

GRAY HERBARIUM OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY,

BOTANIC GARDEN, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.,

July 22, 1898

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Mr. Hurlbut has just sent up asking if you will write for the University Guide Book which is being prepared & which is to be printed before the American Association meeting, a brief and pointed account of the Herbarium building & its contents & work. The material is to be sent to the printer the middle or last of next week and Mr. Hurlbut will send up the middle of the week for your note.

Dr. Goodale has asked me to prepare for the American Journal of Science a somewhat detailed discussion of the Illustrated Flora. I have worked up a paper during the past few evenings and before I turn it over to him I should like to have you see and criticize it. As soon as I can get it copied I shall send it to you not only for your suggestions, but because I do not wish to trespass upon any ground which you may be planning to cover in the Naturalist.

I will send the Grasses to Mr.
Vasey.

Mr. Greenman goes to Cleveland tomorrow. Everything moves on quietly here.

Sincerely

M. L. Sumner.

Fernald, Merritt Lyndon. 1898. "Fernald, Merritt Lyndon July 22, 1898 [Fernald to B.L. Robinson]." Merritt Lyndon Fernald correspondence
