

Alstead Centre, N.H.

July 9, 1899

My dear Miss Day-

I have just heard from Mr. James Macoun that he was about to send the reprints of the Labrador article to me at Cambridge. When they come will you kindly send me 6 of them and also some of the large envelopes, (3) such as we use for reprints?

Our school work has begun very pleasantly here with fine cool weather, though with rain enough to force the mushrooms in good shape.

Some of our men-students have yet arrived, and we are consequently making our excursions with a bevy of women. Two more are coming tomorrow afternoon.

I hope everything at the Herbarium is running on smoothly. I suppose the Summer School has taken possession of the old Laboratory.

I haven't had a chance to do much botanizing yet, but there are apparently a good many species especially in the Connecticut valley which do not occur in the Monadnock region. The flora here on the upland is apparently the same as at Jaffrey.

We have been having a beautiful warm rain, lasting all night, but clearing this morning in time for those who prefer to go to work.

Study give my regards to Mr. Freeman and his Auburn,

Cordially yours

Herbert A. Howard.

Fernald, Merritt Lyndon. 1899. "Fernald, Merritt Lyndon July 9, 1899 [Fernald to M.A. Day]." Merritt Lyndon Fernald correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258582>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/277145>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.