

BROWN UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY,

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 6, Dec. 1903

Dear Miss Day:-

Several time in the past year I believe I have sent inquiries to you which have involved the expenditure of a post card in reply, without the price of the same being refunded by me. I think the inclosed stamps may - if memory serves me correctly - fully compensate for my past thoughtlessness and perhaps for one or two lapses in the future. Please put them in the box with your other P.O.-stamps.

I have at this time another inquiry or a double one:- Is the last page in Linnaeus Species Plantarum (1753) page 1200 (i.e. "Addenda")?, also what leaf was it in this work that you told me about as having been inserted after the original print was issued?

Very truly

J. Franklin Collins
