

Winona, Minn., Dec. 5, 1894.

Dr. George G. Kennedy,
Readville, Mass.

My dear Sir:

Your good letter of Sept. 25., last, is still unanswered. The trouble at my end is too much clerical work: school duties all day. And lately
I have had to take an additional evening class in preparatory Greek thrice a week.
So I am fairly snowed under. For several months I have hardly worked out a mass. But I have hope that I shall have a little more time after the Holidays.

I regret to note that you have had sickness in your family. And I venture to express the hope that with the advent of the bracing winter weather all will be well again.

My best thanks for your specimen of Tayloria tenuis. I promise myself some pleasure in examining it carefully shortly.

Yes, I am well, thank you. But our International Boundary trip, under Minn. University auspices, (we were 5), in June last, a canoe trip, starting at Ely and emerging at Grand Portage, via Gimbert, was within a narrow margin the "net" for me: I nearly drowned. Cordially yours, J. M. Hoblinger.

Holzinger, J. M. 1897. "Holzinger, John M. 5 Dec 1897." George Golding Kennedy correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/172901>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/284874>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.