the Whirlpool" by the author of "The Sardens of a Communist's Wife" a charming story which I think you would enjoy. With kind regards to Mrs Lane

Dear Mr Lane

Many thanks for your kind letter of the 2d inst. Although I did not personally send you ^{the} Cornhill Booklet I asked Mr Bartlett to send you one for me thinking you would like to see it, and that if any members of the Club could get it you could tell them where it could be had. I am glad to know that you liked it in print as well as when I read it before the Club. There is, as you probably noticed, a misprint in the last line p. 58 of hadst for had and confessor in 2^d citizens speech on p. 59, I should have had its first syllable accented. I doubt there was a good attendance at the Publisher Club last evening, and I hope that I shall be back in Boston by the time the Club meets again, although from present indications it looks as if the work I have been engaged to work upon here would take the full year. I have just finished writing a book on my own account, "Some Famous American Schools" which Larna Ester are to publish. It will be quite fully illustrated, and, ~~and~~ I hope it will be readable. I went last evening to hear "Everyman" at the Modern Square Garden Theatre. It was more solemn than any church service I ever attended and far more dramatic than I had supposed. My time has been so fully occupied with my work since I came to N. Y. that I have read almost nothing.

Almost the only book that I have
