

Your violet-plants came in excellent condition & are what you called them (1.) V. papilionacea
(V. domestica Bicknell) (2) its white-flowered form.

The latter I have received from many directions.

— I have set a plant of each in my garden. The species has many forms, or elementary species, But it is a hopeless task to distinguish them all Middletown Ct. Yours Sincerely,
May 10. 1909. Egon Braun.
