Mr. Walter Deane
Cambridge

Dear Mr. Deane:

It is a long time since I have written to you, but now that the crusade to save the Holly is begun I am particularly anxious to learn if it still exists at the old station in Essex County, Massachusetts, and if you know of any cultivated Holly anywhere in New England. A census of the Holly is needed.

The fact that we do not realize that most of what is sold is stolen has not been made clear and would seem to be necessary to help along in the crusade. Any information that you can give will be welcome to me.

Am sending some of our recent leaflets.

Cordially yours,

E. G. Britton
