

POETS' SEAT TOWER, GREENFIELD, MASS.

met me & we have been enjoying together, the beautiful country. Tho singularly & unseasonably cold it has been delightful for my tramping & Nature is at her best. Our friend Bertha (whom I mentioned above) has been most devoted in her attention to botany.
We went up the Green River road alone (!) & on foot & again yesterday she & M.C. had an excursion to Deerfield - Bertha is greatly interested in the plants I find, & next Sat. P.M. we go to another attractive place she knows of. So you see I am well attended & provided for and in fine country - Our member Judge Aiken lives nearby with a famous garden, but I have not called yet - If you happen to write, you may address ~~to me~~ me at home.

Cushing, Mary. 1889. "Cushing, Mary undated [Postcard]." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/159666>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/289347>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.