School of Mines, Columbia College,

CORNER 49TH STREET & 4TH AVENUE.

New York, Aug. 9th 1886.

Geo E. Darwport.

Dear Sir:

I have just finished laying out the ferns for mounting. We opened the package this morning for the first time and thank you exceedingly for the handsome copy of Notholaena Pringlei - which we shall have framed. Our thanks come rather late - but I saved the opening of the package till Mr. Britton could see them with me. I thank you also exceedingly for the specimen of Adiantum tricholepis which was so rare! and in fact for all the specimens which are a decided addition to our gen. collection.

^{466?} (445) error
Nos 4460 - and 455 are not named and do not appear on the list in the Bulletin. Will you - on your return home, kindly give me the names for these numbers.

Mr. Britton joins me in kindest regards and best wishes for improved health

Very sincerely

E. G. Britton.

Britton, Elizabeth G. 1886. "Britton, Elizabeth G. Aug. 9, 1886." George Edward Davenport correspondence
