

H
New Haven. March 5. 1896

My dear Mr. Davenport.

You had not tied up your package quite carefully enough, & it came to me with the string displaced & the ferns ready to drop out.

The Hemionitis I can not find described anywhere, & think it is a good new species.

The Pellaea is the same as Palmer's #543 of the year 1886, which I doubtfully referred to
P. cordata in Proc. Am. Acad. ~~XXII~~. p. 463.
But it now looks like a good & independent species.

The Notholaena I can find nothing in to separate it from N. Lemmonii, nor do I see anything in the Cheilanthes but good C. tomentosa.

I will ask Pringle if he can spare me a set of the ferns - If so I can decline your very kind offer to share your set with me -

I have been pretty well this winter, & am sorry you are not able to say the same for yourself.

I return the ferns.

Yours very truly

Daniel C. Eaton

Eaton, Daniel Cady. 1896. "Eaton, Daniel C. Mar. 5, 1896." George Edward Davenport correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/173595>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/290718>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.