Dear Mr. Drane:— Your last letter got mislaid and I have been laboring under the impression that you owed me one but find today that I am mistaken so will proceed to pay off one debt at once. I am sure you want to hear from my good wife first, am pleased to say that she is slowly but steadily gaining, rides out and walks all about the house and yard.

Very Respectfully,

MOORE & SPAULDING.

I am sorry you are so far away, it is somehow not having and to talk to on my holiday, though I have a good many ~~editions of~~ <sup>editions of</sup> ~~editions of~~ and have some quite a lot of exchanging this year, seeing many fine things to my cofe, I had great success in the birds, taking I sit the ~~bird~~ <sup>bird</sup>, some at that great and many are of some birds including 24 are I magnific ~~birds~~ <sup>birds</sup>!

I have not done out any since June & have not kept back of many birds, I notice swallows are flocking together to the southern migration, also, how short our summer is!

Will you give me your Cambridge address in your next letter? I may visit Boston for two or three days in Oct, and it is worth like to see you!

Yours very truly
A. D. Anderson
