

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 9 1893

My Dear Deane:

Here you are way off in Jeffrey! How you go! I have been rusticated down about New York for some days and have now bobbed in on the people here for a time. It is too hot to travel much, so I shall probably be fixed for a time. I have been gorging myself in my garden on blackberries and apricots until I feel quite aldermanic. I see nothing new to write about and so must close. Nearly everyone is away from here now, and my Chief Company is wicked Thoughts and mosquitoes. Yours for keeps,
L.H.B.

Bailey, L. H. 1893. "Bailey, Liberty Hyde Aug. 9, 1893." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/164204>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/306283>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.