

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY,
BALTIMORE.

Feb. 26, 1903.

Dear Mr. Davenport,

As you suspected,
the buds are simplex, boreale, and Lumaria. It is a pity that they were so brown, for that made it impossible for me to get a good photograph.

Dr. Underwood had my book referred to him for criticism, and I enclose his opinion on a separate slip, which I would like to have back.
He could not have said anything better about it.

Yours very truly,
C. E. Waters.
