MAULE'S SEEDS, BULBS AND ROOTS

There may be a few others as good but THERE ARE ABSOLUTELY NONE BETTER

This is the Last Year to Import Narcissus

Chionodoxa, Fritillaria, Grape Hyacinth, Ixia, Jonquil, Scilla, Snowdrop and Winter Aconite Bulbs. The Federal Horticultural Board of the Department of Agriculture prohibits the importation of these bulbs into the United States after December 31, 1925. It should hardly be necessary for us to urge you to order early and order enough to fill every available space with these old-fashioned favorites so highly prized by all flower lovers.

We are confident you cannot purchase better quality bulbs anywhere. All bulbs herein offered are grown either in Bermuda, Japan, France, United States, but principally in Holland, and it is from the best growers only that we procure our stocks, which usually reach us in September. Just as soon after their arrival as we can unpack, assort and examine them, we will fill all orders in rotation as received.

REMEMBER! All bulbs, listed in this catalog, must be planted in the fall for winter blooming indoors or spring flowering outdoors. Don't wait until planting time to send us your order; we may not be able to fill it then. Avoid disappointment, place your order as soon as possible after receiving this book.

FREE DELIVERY All flowering Bulbs and Roots offered in this catalog, will be sent, postpaid, at prices quoted for quantities offered.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS for the growing of bulbs and roots in the house or in the garden are given in our "Bulb Culture" pamphlet, a copy of which will be sent, free, with every order.

The sowing of such seeds and the planting of such perennial roots as can successfully be done in the Fall should be encouraged so as to relieve the rush next Spring when there is so much to be done in a short space of time. In this catalog are listed the varieties best suited for the purpose.

We wish to thank our ever-increasing number of customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and assure you we will greatly appreciate your orders for such seeds, bulbs and roots as we list that you will require for Autumn planting. From those who have not yet favored us with their orders, we respectfully solicit a trial.

Very truly yours,

Twenty-first and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

NARCISSUS, or DAFFODILS

The importation of these bulbs into the United States is prohibited after December 31, 1925. It should, therefore, be unnecessary for us to urge you to order your supply early and buy enough to fill all available space.

Narcissus are indispensable for Winter use and early Spring flowering. They are perfectly hardy (except Polyanthus), growing and doing well in almost any position, whether in sun or shade, moist or dry. For best effects they should be planted in clumps in the hardy borders, among the grass, under trees, etc. For blooming in the house during the Winter, all varieties are well adapted, filling the room with their rich fragrance. They are very desirable as cut flowers and will remain perfect in water for days after being cut. In describing Narcissus we have referred to perianth and trumpet, giving the color of each. The trumpet is the center, funnel-like tube and the perianth is the row of petals or wings surrounding it. Our "Bulb Culture" will be sent with every order.

Customers may order half pecks at the peck rate; half bushels at the bushel rate.

789 Japanese Buckwheat

A Valuable Grain or Cover Crop

The best and most profitable variety. Flour is superior to that of any other variety. Ripens in 8 or 10 weeks. Sow 36 pounds in drills or 48 pounds broadcast to an acre in July, north of Virginia; farther south, one month later.

Packet, 10 cts.; pound, 30 cts.; 3 pounds, 75 cts., postpaid.
Not prepaid, 12 pounds (peck), 75 cts.;
48 pounds (bushel), $2.75.

783 White Swiss Barley

The heaviest yielding six-rowed bearded sort.

The particular value of Barley in the south is for Fall, Winter and Spring grazing, and to cut as it is heading out to use as hay crop. Barley stools out more and really makes better Fall, Winter and Spring grazing than either rye or wheat.

Sow in September north of Virginia, south as late as November at the rate of 96 pounds per acre, broadcast or in drills.

Packet, 10 cts.; pound, 30 cts.; 3 pounds, 75 cts.; postpaid.

Excellent Green Food for Fowls or Stock

Belongs to the Cabbage family. It produces plants growing 3 to 4 feet high, covered with large, Cabbage-like leaves in about 45 days. It is a heavy cropper. Animals, especially pigs and sheep, eat it greedily. Hardy, and will thrive on any soil. Sow in rows or broadcast, using 2 pounds per acre, as late as August north of Virginia; farther south as late as October. Packet, 10 cts.; pound, $1.00; 5 pounds, $4.00, postpaid.

The grain is intermediate between wheat and barley. The chaff adheres to the grain when threshed, and is fed in that condition to stock. It is adapted for milling purposes, as well as for feeding. It grows large crops—40 to 80 bushels per acre—on comparatively poor soil. It resists drought successfully, and is adapted to northern latitude. North or south of Virginia sow in the Early Fall, at the rate of 80 pounds per acre.

Packet, 10 cts.; pound, 30 cts.; 3 pounds, 75 cts., postpaid.
Not prepaid, 10 pounds (peck), 75 cts.;

Maule's Giant Pansies (Heartsease Hardy Biennial)

For many years, in fact ever since we have been in business, we have given particular attention to Pansy seeds, until we really think our strains of Pansies are as good as can be found anywhere in the world. Pansies demand good soil, thriving best in a cool, moist but well drained position. Do not plant Pansies in the shade of a tree or building, as this causes straggly plants with very few blooms.

For early Spring blooming, sow seeds in July, August or early September in the open ground or cold frame. They are quite hardy, but we recommend giving them a slight protection with straw, leaves or coarse litter during the Winter. We know that the results obtained from our Pansy seeds have been so remarkable that this is the reason the demand for this beautiful and popular flower increases with us so much every year.

Year by year we watch the productions of American and European specialists and secure everything truly meritorious for incorporation into our Prize Mixture.

Pansy seed is a very high priced commodity, and it is next to impossible for the average flower lover to buy all the new sorts on the market. All the types that are really desirable will be found in Maule's Prize Mixture, which is largely grown for exhibition purposes.
