PRINCE'S SELECT CATALOGUE.

Roses, Herbaceous Flowering Plants, &c.

ROSES.

IN the formation of the present Catalogue of Roses, we have greatly reduced the number of varieties, and have selected only the most desirable of each class, and such as form a combination of all that is most interesting and beautiful in each family. Many of the varieties are so new and rare that they have never before been offered to the public. We still possess a stock of the kinds now omitted, if they should be desired, and at reduced prices. We make it a rule to sell as low or lower than others; and, when the size of our plants is considered, we think we offer still more important advantages.

N. B.—We wish it to be especially noted, that all our Roses are on their roots, and none budded except a few of the newest Hybrid Perpetuals. Roses budded on the Manetti and other tender varieties, are subject to die out during severe winters.

Extra large plants can be supplied of many varieties, at proportionate prices.

CHINESE DAILY, OR BENGAL ROSES.

Those not priced are 37 to 50 cts. each.

$2 50 to $3 per dozen, for one class, and $4 50 per dozen for the more rare varieties, except those specially priced.

CHINESE CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

The magnificent seminal varieties which have been latterly produced in France, Belgium, and England, have given to this beautiful class of flowers a most imposing position, and, in the gardens of the Middle and Southern States, they now supply one of the principal adornments, by an evervarying display of beauty during the autumnal period, when most other plants present us only the remains of departed verdure.

They also contribute greatly to the embellishment of our Green-houses previous to the period when the flowers of other plants regale us with their beauty and perfume.

PHLOX—SPLENDID AND RARE VARIETIES.

This interesting family is one of the most beautiful and interesting of the Herbaceous Perennials. The different varieties varying in their time of bloom, cover the entire Summer and Autumn, and, being perfectly hardy, they may be justly ranked among the most desirable appendages of the flower garden. The family may be divided into three classes at least; and will, as new varieties are produced, be divided into at least six classes. The Acuminata and Paniculata families are of the tallest growth, and constitute one class; the Decussata and Pyramidalis varieties constitute those of the second class, and of medium stature; and the Suffruticosa varieties constitute those of minor height; and with these we may, for the present, unite the creeping varieties, of very humble growth. In arranging flower-borders, the different classes can be placed in accordance with their relative size. The collection we offer is the very elite, and altogether unequalled.

Directions for the Culture of Bulbous Roots, &c.

The most simple species of culture, is all that is required for this class of flowers.

The situation should be dry and airy; the soil a light sandy loam, and if not sufficiently light, add a portion of sand, to make it so, and enrich it by digging in a liberal quantity of old decomposed manure.

The best periods for planting the hardy species of Bulbs, are August to November inclusive, but it may be performed later, in climates where the ground remains open. In planting, it is beneficial to strew fresh or sea sand in the trenches or openings, before and after placing the roots, so that they may be completely surrounded by sand.

Hyacinths, Persian Fritillary, Martagon, and other Lilies, should be planted at a depth of four inches; Crown Imperials and Polyanthus Narcissus, five inches; Tulips, Double and Single Narcissus, Jonquils, Arum, Colchicum, Snowflake, Bulbous Iris, Pæonies and Gladiolus, three inches; Crocus, Small Fritillaries, Snowdrops, Ornithogalums and Dens Canis, two inches; Anemone and Ranunculus, one and a half inches, always measuring from the top of the bulb. The roots can be placed from two to six inches apart, according to their size. When planted it will not be necessary to remove them oftener than every second or third year, and then it is only rendered necessary by their increase, and the necessity of separating them, and of enriching the soil.

Bulbs for Winter blooming, in pots and glasses.

Hyacinths, Polyanthus Narcissus, Roman and other Double Narcissus, Jonquils, Persian Iris, Persian Cyclamen, Crocus, and Double Van Thol Tulips, are the preferable species for this purpose. Those intended for glasses, should be placed in them the middle of November, the glasses being previously so filled with pure water, that the bottom of the bulb will just touch the water: then place them for the first ten days in a dark room to promote the shooting of the roots, after which, expose them to the sun and light, in an airy position, as much as possible. Rain water is preferable, and it should be changed as often as it becomes impure, at which periods the roots should be drawn entirely out, and be rinsed in clean water.

Bulbs intended for pots, should be planted therein during the months of October or November, and be left exposed to the open air until the ground commences freezing, when they should be removed to the greenhouse, or to a warm room. They will, of course, require occasional waterings, and plentifully, as the growth advances.
