NARCISSUS, Paper White Grandiflora For Winter Flowering Indoors

This is a great improvement on the common Paper White, the flowers being about twice the size. They are of star-like form, pearly white and delightfully fragrant. It is a very early and abundant bloomer and may be had in full beauty at Christmas. Bulbs may be planted in shallow boxes or pots and kept in a cool, dark place to form roots before bringing to the light. This is one of the most beautiful and satisfactory winter bloomers when grown in the Chinese manner. Set the bulb firmly in a bowl or glass container filled with pebbles or gravel and add water to cover the roots of the bulb. Treated in this way they will bloom quickly and a few bulbs will produce a charming bit of beauty and fragrance in any room. See the illustration above.

Select bulbs, 12c each; 2 for 20c

OXALIS, Grand Duchess

This is one of the most satisfying and beautiful flowers it is possible to have. Blossoms three inches across, borne well above the foliage, and of the most lovely colors. Clear, rosy pink, pure white and a most beautiful shade of lavender. The large, fresh green leaves are clover shaped and most attractive. Both flowers and leaves "sleep" or partly close at night. A most persistent bloomer, remaining constantly in flower from November to June. Surely one of the most satisfactory of all winter-blooming bulbs.

Mixed Grand Duchess—Several fine colors.
30c per doz.; $2.00 per 100

The imported bulbs offered here usually arrive in August and orders will be booked for delivery upon arrival.

OUR FIRST SUMMER CATALOG

WE herewith present to our customers our first summer catalog. It is by no means to take the place of the fall catalog which follows in September, but rather to give our regular customers the opportunity of first choice and earliest service.

It is a fact also that one of the best times to send an order is when gardens everywhere are blooming, and one can see and select just what is wanted for every corner of one's own garden.

The last few years have seen great progress in the direction of constant rather than periodic garden activity. The reward of the new treatment has been our ever blooming clumps and borders with one beautiful display succeeding another. True succession of crops in flowers as well as in grains and vegetables.

July and August are now recognized as an ideal time during which to begin planting for next year's gardens. Iris, Peonies, and other hardy perennials are then either dormant or have finished the season's new growth and may be transplanted with success.

Also the strawberry bed may be pushed ahead by setting out in July or August, pot grown plants whose flourishing start makes certain an abundance of berries the following June.

Midsummer gives opportunity for a second crop of quick maturing vegetables and the season of garden favorites like radishes, turnips, peas, string beans, rhubarb, etc., may be prolonged till frost.

All perennial flowers from seed sown now will make a lively growth for next year's bloom, while greenhouse grown plants in general may be set out in the garden with full promise of success.

In short, we believe that this little summer catalog will meet your needs.

We shall promptly fill everything in your order which is seasonable. Anything which will give you better success a little later will go out automatically at proper time. Your order will be in. You will have first choice and immediate service.

A special offer is made on the back cover for a trial order from this our first summer catalog.

A POT GROWN
STRAWBERRY PLANT

POT GROWN STRAWBERRY PLANTS

Have a great advantage over others because they will bear a crop of fine large berries the first season after planting.

Every home garden should produce some of this most delicious of berries. Pot grown plants may be set out in summer or fall and berries harvested the next summer—one year earlier than if ordinary plants were used. They will succeed on almost any kind of soil if well manured and exposed to full sun. For the home garden, plant in rows two feet apart and the plants one foot apart in the row, cutting off all runners as they appear; or plant in rows three and one-half feet apart and one foot in the row, allowing the runners to grow at will. Either method will produce excellent results. The plants will reach you with a ball of earth about the roots, just as they were removed from the pots as shown in the illustration above. This ball should be crushed and dipped in a pail of water as the plants are set. The varieties offered below have been tested on our trial grounds and we can recommend them unreservedly. In order to encourage the use of pot grown plants, which we know will give greatest satisfaction, we are quoting very low prices. The plants will be shipped by express only, carefully packed at the customers expense. We will, however, send small lots of one or two dozen by parcel post, prepaid, if 10c per doz. is added to the price. Sold in lots of not less than one dozen of any variety.

Brandywine—This fine, old variety produces large, firm, round berries of excellent quality and bright red color. Well adapted for the home garden. Price $1.10 per doz.; $7.00 per 100

Chesapeake—This berry will produce wonderful crops if you have a loam or clay-loam soil. The berries are somewhat heart shaped, the flesh firm and of fine quality and bright crimson color. Mid-season to late. $1.25 per doz.; $8.50 per 100

Gandy—This variety has been largely grown for many years and is well and favorably known. The berries are very large, of a bright flame color, firm and of good flavor. It likes a moist soil and is a late variety. $1.10 per doz.; $7.00 per 100 of bright scarlet color and sweet, luscious flavor. A great bearer. $1.10 per doz.; $7.00 per 100

Hundred Dollar—A most valuable midseason variety for the home garden. Extra large berries

The Fall crop is large, especially if the blossoms are picked off up to August. Progressive is one of the best known and most widely planted of this type. The berries are a glossy crimson color, very smooth and uniform in size. The plant is a great bearer both in June and Fall. $1.25 per doz.; $9.00 per 100

LILY OF THE VALLEY PLANT

NATIVE HUMUS, or Natural Soil Life

Not a Prepared or Chemical Fertilizer. But Pure Vegetable Humus that has been decaying and concentrating for ages. Ready for use.

This is superior to manure for it is concentrated soil life. Its natural proportions of chemical plant food such as nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potash and lime gives it all the advantages of chemical fertilizers in a natural and proper proportion. It will not injure the most sensitive plant, and is absolutely odorless, clean, sterile, and utterly devoid of filth of any sort.

For PLANTS, GARDENS and LAWNS. Humus is the very best thing it is possible to use. It will absorb several times its own weight in moisture and will release it gradually, thus carrying lawns, plants, shrubs, and vegetables through periods of drouth.

For POT PLANTS. A little Humus mixed in potting soil will show wondrous results from the start.

For FERNS it has no equal; it is their natural soil and there can be no better.

For the VEGETABLE GARDENS. A little Humus used in the hills of corn, beans, melons, or scattered in rows of beets, carrots, onions, peppers, etc., helps much.

For the FLOWER GARDEN. Humus can be used on all flowering plants to great advantage, giving them strength to resist drouth and disease.

For LAWNS. Humus has wondrous effect, giving strength, vigor and color to grass as well as drouth-resisting qualities. A lawn where Humus has been used can always be distinguished by its superior appearance.

IMPERIAL CHINESE SACRED LILY

These are most popular winter-blooming plants. Bulbs large and each one sends up several spikes, which bear clusters of large, perfect, wax-like blossoms with yellow centers, having a delicate fragrance, which is not excelled by any flower. They grow well in pots of soil; but the most popular way of blooming them is the Chinese method, as follows: Fill a bowl or some similar vessel with pebbles in which place the bulb, setting it about one-half its depth, so that it will be held firmly; then fill in with water to the top of the pebbles, and place in a warm, sunny window. The bulbs will at once commence a rapid growth and bloom in three to six weeks. A dozen of these bulbs started in succession through the fall and winter will give a long season of beauty and fragrance. These bulbs are very easy to manage and you will be delighted with the results.

AN INSECTICIDE OF GREAT VALUE

The greatest of all compounds for destroying insects of every kind and description. It is a paste, a teaspoonful of which is dissolved in a pint of warm water or a tablespoonful in a quart of water. With this water the infested plants are sprayed, washed, syringed or sprinkled. It kills every insect with which it comes in contact, on the spot; also their eggs and larvae. Those which escape its touch die afterwards, by feeding upon the plant which has been syringed. Though so destructive to all insect life, it is non-poisonous and harmless to vegetation when diluted as directed. It dissolves quickly and readily in cold water. Price, in ten-ounce cans, postpaid.
