Lilies

(Hardy)

We offer only native grown lilies. We, therefore can supply bulbs early in the fall when lilies should be planted if they are to give satisfaction.

Poor results in growing hardy lilies are due, mainly, to two causes: First the use of imported bulbs. These are not obtainable until too late for them to be planted and to become established in the ground before freezing weather. Second the attempt to grow kinds and varieties that are not adapted to being grown here.

We confine our growing to those kinds and varieties that we know will succeed under a wide range of soil and climatic conditions and with only ordinary care.
