MOUNTAIN-GRO FARM SEEDS

HYBRID FIELD CORN

PORT-WALCO HYBRID No. 100

Sow in drills 3 feet apart, using approximately 15 pounds of seed per acre.

Top Silage Producer

Maturity 100 to 110 days. Since its introduction growers in most areas have reported heaviest tonnage per acre in both green fodder and dry weight with Port-Walco Hybrid 100. It is a prodigious yielder of good solid ears that are long and thick, with very little taper. A strong and vigorous grower, producing tall, succulent stalks. Then too, the ears are set at a good height so there is little or no stalk breakage.

PORT-WALCO HYBRID No. 90

Best of the 90 to 100 day- maturity Corns. The dark green plants of this high-yielding early hybrid retain their rich color even after the ears are well matured. This condition makes possible a feed of greater nutritive value. The ears are medium size and thick with deep kernels. In U.S.A.C. tests at various Utah stations Port-Walco No. 90 was one of the highest-yielding varieties.

PORT-WALCO HYBRID No. 120

The outstanding silage variety, maturing in 110 to 120 days. Not only is it the heaviest fodder producer in our hybrid list, but it yields an equally good grain crop. Its short shanks permit easy harvesting and handling for silage purposes. The plants of No. 120 are rich dark green, retaining their color until after the ears are well matured. As silage, it possesses both higher food value and higher palatability.

Prices of all corn varieties are listed on page 23.

GRASSES for Range, Meadow, Pasture

ALTA FESCUE

(Festuca elatior arundinacea)

Alta Fescue is much more productive than Meadow Fescue. It grows late in the summer and fall when other grasses have passed their productive peak. Various trials show it to outyield other varieties from 15 to 50 per cent. The dense root system, reaching a depth of 5 to 6 feet, makes this variety valuable as a soil builder. Sow 12 to 15 pounds per acre.

SMOOTH BROME GRASS

and its Improved Strains

Smooth Brome Grass has long been recognized as one of the most valuable of all pasture grasses. It is the most palatable of the important grasses as well as the most useful because it is ideally adapted to a wide range of Intermountain soils, including loam, alkali and gravelly soils. Porter-Walton Company now offers two new strains of Smooth Brome which have definite advantages for specific situations.

Manchar Strain. Rugged hardiness is a natural characteristic of this wonderful Northern grass. Its exceptionally strong seedling vigor ensures better stands and carries over to make Manchar one of the leading producers of leafy, highly palatable forage.

Lincoln Strain Brome. Where long dry periods and high summer temperatures prevail, Southern bred Lincoln Brome is particularly valuable. Its vigorous root system makes a heavy dense sod which produces lush early spring growth, continuing into the summer with abundant leafy growth near the base of the plant.

ALFALFA (Lucerne)

Ranger. This new variety is highly resistant to bacterial wilt. Being very similar to Common or Hardy Desert in habit of growth and soil requirements, it is well adapted to northern areas. In localities where bacterial wilt is a problem, a stand of Ranger will remain indefinitely.

Other alfalfa varieties — See page 23.

CLOVER

Ladino. A giant form of the common White Dutch Clover and like the latter is a long-lived perennial. After being grazed, new leaves develop quickly, complete recovery occurring in 17 to 28 days. It is strictly a crop for irrigation. Sow in early fall or spring at the rate of 3 to 5 pounds per acre, 1 to 2 pounds in mixtures.

Strawberry (Tall Variety). Resembles the Common White Dutch in appearance but is much hardier and adapted to a wider range of soil and moisture conditions. Will thrive in soils having a high alkaline content and will survive flooding for a period of 30 to 60 days. Highly recommended as a pasture crop because of palatability and hardness.

SWEET CLOVER

Hubam. The richest honey-producing Clover. An annual sweet Clover which grows rapidly, attaining a height of 6 to 7 feet. It is very valuable for pasturage and hay when cut before it gets too old. Also used to great advantage as a cover crop or for green manure. Sow 12 to 15 pounds per acre in fall or spring.

See page 23 for a complete list of clover varieties and prices.

TALL MEADOW OAT GRASS

TUALATIN STRAIN

Tualatin strain Oat Grass possesses the same growth habits, adaptabilities and forage value as Tall Meadow Oat Grass. However, the seed kernel of this new strain has been mechanically removed from the large bulky hull by a process known as groating. The removal of the hull allows trouble-free drilling of the seed and greatly reduces the bulk of seed to be handled.

ORCHARD GRASS

(Dactylis glomerata)

This very early pasture grass furnishes feed at least three weeks before most other grasses. Even after close grazing, a ten-day interval is sufficient for another growth. It makes a heavy sod and gives splendid pasture until late in the fall. Withstands drought and is very hardy. An excellent variety for use in pasture mixtures. Sow 15 to 20 pounds per acre when seeded alone.

REED CANARY GRASS

(Phalaris arundinacea)

This is a valuable, high-yielding forage plant that is naturally adapted to low wet lands. Two or three crops of high quality hay may be cut or it will provide excellent all summer pasture. Sow at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds per acre broadcast or in drills, or 2 to 3 pounds per acre in 16 to 18-inch rows.

Mountain-Gro Pasture Mixtures

Mountain-Gro Pasture Seeds start Quicker and Grow faster because they are protected and invigorated by the

Exclusive TRI-KOT Process

(Contains New Captan)

Here is what TRI-KOT Process does for you

1. Insures better stands of seedlings because the seeds are protected against attack by insects and soil fungus diseases.
2. Stimulates vigorous early growth and better root development.
3. TRI-KOT process produces bigger crops . . . greater profit.

IRRIGATED PASTURE MIX

Here is a blend of selected grasses and legumes that produces profits as high as those from any other crops regularly grown on irrigated land. It produces more profit than many of the favored farm crops. Mountain-Gro Irrigated Pasture Mix contains the highly productive strains that are especially palatable to beef or milking livestock. All varieties are scientifically proportioned to maintain a high level of forage production right through from early spring to fall frosts. The proper balance of grass and clover forage produced by this mixture minimizes danger of bloat under good grazing practices. Your most productive, most profitable pasture is Mountain-Gro Irrigated Pasture Mix with the exclusive TRI-KOT process for better stands and healthier, more vigorous early growth.

LOWLAND PASTURE MIX

Many farms and ranches contain some land that is too low and wet, or too alkaline to be highly productive when growing only native grasses. The grass and legume varieties in Porter-Walton's Lowland Pasture Mix are selected for their adaptation to these soil conditions. Lowland Pasture Mix greatly increases production of both grass and legumes to provide a nutritious, palatable and balanced diet for beef or milking stock. Higher production means greatly increased profit per acre from these formerly unproductive areas.

Mountain-Gro Pasture Mixtures are TRI-KOT processed to insure better stands and more vigorous starting.
