CALIFORNIA PRIVET

(Ligustrum ovalifolium)

ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL OF HEDGES
PLANTED MORE EXTENSIVELY THAN ALL OTHER
VARIETIES COMBINED

Tear down unsightly fences and improve and enhance the value of your property by using Privet.

THIS is a very ornamental shrub, with thick, glossy, nearly evergreen leaves. It is perfectly hardy, and succeeds everywhere. As a low hedge around private lawns it is unequalled; and its handsome appearance, when so used, tends to greatly enhance the beauty and value of the property. Also, as a border for cemetery lots it is very desirable and beautiful.

Nothing is more beautiful than a well kept hedge to serve as a boundary line between neighbors, or as a division between lawn and garden. A hedge can be had very cheaply, and then, with a little care it is becoming every year more and more "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." We all know that such hedges constitute the principal attraction in our best kept places.

Planting a Hedge.—Mark out the line where the hedge is to be planted. Dig the ground at least 15 to 18 inches deep and about 2 feet wide along the line made for the hedge. Pulverize the ground well, and level the top surface, then draw a line exactly where the hedge is to be planted; walk over the line and it will make a mark showing where to plant. Throw out a ditch large enough to receive the roots without cramping and deep enough so the plants, when properly placed, will be in a few inches deeper than they were planted in the nursery row. When the ground settles it will leave them at about the proper depth. Put the plant at the proper place in the trench or ditch 9 inches apart, throw dirt in around the roots, working it among the roots well, and fill in about two-thirds of the trench with dirt. If the ground is at all dry, put plenty of water in and throw in the remainder of the dirt.

One of the best known hedge plants, and when sheared, which it stands well, makes one of the handsomest, rapid-growing shrubs. Very desirable.
