SPRING, 1895.

SEMI-ANNUAL

WHOLESALE PRICE LIST

—OF—

AUGUSTINE & CO.,

NORMAL, ILLINOIS.

OFFICE:

On Bloomington & Normal Electric Street
Railway, Normal.

Telephone with Bloomington Exchange, 198.

Take Street Car from all Railroad Depots at Bloomington to reach Normal, at Junction of C. & A. and I. C. Main Lines,

Packing Grounds Twenty Rods West of Normal University.

ESTABLISHED 1867.

To the Trade.

In presenting our wholesale price-list for the spring of 1895, we desire to extend thanks to our patrons who have favored us so liberally in the past, and we solicit a careful consideration of the fine assortment of stock we are offering, our very low prices, our experience in the business, and our most excellent shipping facilities; with six important railroads, we can forward shipments without change of cars to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cairo, Dubuque, and many other points in all directions.

To Dealers.

We have as commodious packing pounds as can be found in the West. Individual billing sheds and all kinds of supplies, and, above all, a complete assortment of stock, enabling you to fill your orders quickly and in first-class shape, without any trouble of looking up your stock.

Important Suggestions.

Write orders plainly and entirely separate from the letter.

Name route over which you wish stock shipped.

State whether stock is to be shipped as freight or express.

If your place is not a railroad town, give name of town to which stock is to be shipped.

Specify class or size, and price of stock wanted.

Remit by draft on New York, Chicago, St. Louis or Cincinnati; or money order or currency by express, charges prepaid.

Do not send personal checks.

Please Remember.

That when we have delivered stock to railroad, express, or transportation company, in good order as directed, our responsibility ceases, and we cannot assume the responsibility of delay in handling.

That we are always glad to correct mistakes if reported promptly, but no claims allowed unless reported within ten day after receipt of goods.

That orders from those with whom we have no acquaintance must be accompanied with the cash or bank reference.

That great care will be taken to please all who may favor us with their patronage, and furnish stock true to name as far as possible, but we reserve the right to substitute, unless otherwise directed.

Spring of 1895.

TERMS.—Cash or bankable note. C. O. D. orders must be accompanied by one-half cash to insure attention.

CHARGES FOR PACKING.—Prices in this list do not include packing. Boxes and bailing will always be added at cost. Boxes at 25 cents to $2.50; and bales 25 cents to $3.00. No charge for drayage.

The following prices are for quantities specified; but on large orders 5 will be furnished at 10 rates, 50 at 100 rates, and 500 at 1000 rates.

If ordered early, we can ship apples, peaches, plums, cherries, and apple seedlings in car load lots, or smaller quantities, from Topeka, Kansas.

The young trees of the Simpson Plum bore with us for the first time last year and we were very much pleased with them. The young trees carry the same characteristics as the old trees. The fruit is large, a beautiful golden color, and very firm and sweet—sweeter than any plum we ever ate. It is an entirely free-stone. The original tree was found growing wild in the woods near Alexis this state. The leaf and wood have the appearance of the European class, but in vigor, hardness and bearing, it follows the Chickasaw type. We are more convinced than ever that it will soon be in the front ranks

Peaches.

LINCOLN.

The above is an exact copy of a photograph taken for us of the famous Lincoln Pear Tree, January 1, 1895. The seed of this tree was planted in the spring of 1837, making the tree 58 years old. One foot from the ground it measures 6 feet 4 inches in circumference. The tree bears annually from 40 to 60 bushels of fruit. We were the first to propagate the Lincoln pear commercially, and planted trees in our own experimental grounds which have since come into bearing. We have watched these and many other young trees, and each year has strengthened our faith in the Lincoln. The trees are extremely hardy, free from blight or disease, heavy bearers, fruit medium to large, with a rich aromatic flavor. If your Lincoln trees bear our seal you may be sure you have the genuine Lincoln Pear.
