NEW EASTER LILY.

(L. LONGIFLORUM GIGANTEUM MULTIFLORUM.)

Although new to this country this grand variety has been well tested in England for several years and is said to force equal to Harrisii. Our grower gives us the following description of stock grown in Bermuda :

Pure white trumpet-shaped flowers, much larger and in greater profusion than the ordinary L. Longiflorum or Harrisii, and are borne upon strong, robust stems with numerous long-pointed bright green leaves. It has the branching habit of the Speciosum type, the flowers being produced in umbels, a 5 to 7 inch bulb showing as many as 10 to 12 flowers, making it particularly useful as a pot plant, and is free from disease.

All procurable stock of this grand, new and distinct Easter Lily has been placed in our hands for sale, and offer them as follows:

No grower of Lilies should fail to give this a trial at least this year, as it is a really good thing and here to stay.

LILIES.

Bermuda and Japan Grown.

This article has proven in past years to be one of the most profitable plants a florist can grow. At Easter time there is never enough to go round and prices have steadily advanced in consequence each year.

Bear in mind, also, that large quantities (upwards of 700,000) of Japan bulbs were destroyed in transit by becoming heated, which has removed this quantity from off the market.
