FIELD COLLECTION NUMBERS

Ligustrum quiboui Carr Found on Triassic near Bull Run Stream - several years ago -

Visited my old farm (known then as the David Waite place), Oxford, Mass., June - July 1949. Arrived in Oxford,
June 25. Left Oxford July 3, 1949.
55-60 years ago I found a rare blackberry which then was identified by some one at Cambridge, Mass., as Rubus setosus Bigelow.
In a recent monograph, E. H. Bailey note of the puzzle of this species.
In a letter to Dr. Bailey, he replied that he would be greatly pleased if I would revisit and try to obtain material of this Rubus. June 26 I visited this particular shale and found the blackberry still present.
I think is what Dr. Bailey now calls Rubus nigricans Rydb. Other species were collected - see 19492-19493, 19499, 19500, 19501, 19503, 19504, 19505,
19506, 19507, 19508.

Proper name of Hieracium greenei ^{or H. trailii} of manual should be H. trailii Greene (see Pittoria 4:226. 1900)

Proper name of Nieracium greenii ^{Postels & Britton} ~~A. Gray~~ of Manual should be H. traillii Greene (See Pittonia 4:226. 1900)
A western species was named
H. greenii A. Gray. (See Proc. Am.
Acad. 19:69. 1883.) The two names
H. greenii and H. greenii are too similar to be used for different species.
