Timber covered with ice when the snow fell
Black, when melted resembled mud taken from bogs.
Large pieces of pure fresh water ice, with gravel Pebbles in a block which blew out without moving any earth

Remained over 20th piling two feet temperature of store cellar for week $+16\frac{1}{2}$ on same level of bottom of shaft.

Containing sufficient water to finally solidify it when frozen

Strata 400 to S.D.V. 453 a pair of wooden axes found, also fragments of clam shells, at 27.5' shelled work on the 14th on the morning of the 18th found water + mud in bottom of shaft, with temperature of earth $+14$. Water very pale, stood at 15th when brought to the surface
