The illustration shows a fine specimen of Colorado Silver Blue Spruce

YOUR farm is now worth about $125 per acre. At the present rate of increase, in five years every acre ought to be worth at least $150. But you can make it worth much more than that by the judicious and practical planting of trees and shrubbery to afford protection to your stock and home, and to beautify your home surroundings. The value of such things to your family is more than you can realize. Read the other pages of this card, and let us know your needs by mail or phone.

W. M. BOMBERGER, Ferndale Nurseries, HARLAN, IOWA

A planting of Evergreens such as this will not cost you much, but will add greatly to the value of your place in a few years.

VERY year thousands of dollars' worth of live stock are lost because there is not the proper kind of shelter for the cattle upon the farms. Some counties in Western Iowa last winter lost $50,000 worth of stock for this reason alone. Evergreens planted as shelter belts will be of vast benefit to the live stock, and will protect your home from the fierce winds of winter. Their use is distinct economy, and they save their cost over and over again. This is the purely practical side of planting evergreens. Planting them to beautify the home surroundings adds much more than their cost to the value of the home, besides giving the pleasure of living surrounded by the loveliness of nature. We have some of the finest specimens of fancy evergreens, such as Colorado Silver Blue Spruce, Silver Fir, Douglas Spruce, etc., ever grown, and our stock of fancy shade trees, shrubs and other beautiful things cannot be excelled. Let us know your needs, and we'll be glad to advise you what to plant.
