ABOUT WARRANTING SEEDS

While we exercise great care, both for our own and our customers' interests, to supply and furnish the best seeds that it is possible to obtain, there are so many conditions—weather and other causes—affecting the growth of seeds and the out-turn of crops, that it must be distinctly understood that all our seeds are sold under the conditions in regard to non-warranty of seeds which have been generally adopted by the seed trade, and which are as follows :

We give no warranty, expressed or implied, as to description, quality, productiveness or any other matter of any seeds, bulbs, or plants we send out, and will not be in any way responsible for the crop. If the purchaser does not accept the goods on these terms, they are at once to be returned.

Soliciting your orders or inquiries, which shall always have our best and most careful attention.

We are a young concern, with a reputation to build, and the only way we can do it is by treating our customers fairly and honestly.

Kennerly's Red
Valentine Bush Bean

SNAP BEANS

CULTURE.—For fall, plant in August and September; for spring, in January, and then any time until April. Use about a ton of fertilizer to the acre. Make your rows 3 feet apart, drilling the seed in the row with a Planet Jr. Seed Drill. (If you cannot buy in your town, we will furnish prices and descriptions.) After the seed germinates, cultivate freely and add a little fertilizer every ten days. Ship in bushel hampers. It is a good idea to pick your beans one day, pack them in the crates and set them in a cool, shady spot until the following day, then they will shrink up all they ever will, and when you fill your crates up, they will get to market full; thus you will realize a better price. Ship in Bean hampers.

If ordering Bean seed by mail, add 10 cts. per pint, 15 cts. per quart, for postage

There is no better fertilizer than well-rotted stable manure and about 1,000 pounds of Kainit to the acre. Give plenty of work with Planet Jr. Wheel Hoes. A SATISFIED CUSTOMER

ARIPEKA, FLA., October 23, 1909.

KENNERLY'S SEED STORE, Palatka, Fla.

Dear Sirs:—I have been using your seeds for the past three years and they have given entire satisfaction in every particular. Several of my neighbors have become patrons of your house the present season, who have never used your seed before, and I am sure that with the honest treatment they are bound to receive at your hands, they will continue to use your goods, and that others will join your list of patrons at this place.

Yours very truly,
J. W. JOHNSON.

Kennerly's Main-Crop Cabbage

CABBAGE Sow 6 ounces to the acre

CULTURE.—Cabbages, like Beets, can be planted from August until March. They should be raised in seed-beds until about four weeks old; then transplanted to the field. Rows from 30 inches to 3 feet apart, and 20 inches to 2 feet in the row. (Remember this: Always be sure to have the transplanting ground richer than the ground you bring them from; if not, they will do no good. Your field should be at least twice as rich as your seed-beds.) Cabbages are "gross feeders," and must have plenty of well-balanced fertilizer. We handle and recommend Armour's Cabbage Fertilizer, which we have thoroughly tested on our Montrose Farm Trial Grounds. Ship your Cabbages in cabbage crates, sending the pointed heads to southern markets, and the large, flat varieties to northern markets.

Kennerly's Main-Crop. Our Cabbage seed is grown for us by one of the leading Cabbage experts of the country for planting in Florida, and is bound to give you better results than you can get from seed not grown for Florida planting. Especially suited to this climate, as it stands the warm, dry weather better than most varieties, and 98 per cent will form fine marketable heads, weighing from eight to twelve pounds. If you want a good-sized, flat-headed Cabbage, try this one. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 25 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 75 cts., lb. \$2.50.

CULTURE.—Make your first planting of seed in August, and afterward you can sow as often as desired until January, as, in many cases, the late crop is most profitable. Re-planted plants do best; that is, plants taken out of the seed-bed and put in another bed, about an inch apart in the row, with rows 6 inches apart. Do not be afraid of using too much fertilizer. Set plants, if in single rows, 4 inches apart in the row, with rows $2\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 feet apart; if in double rows, plants in the row 6 inches apart and the rows 3 feet apart. Celery needs lots of cultivation. The best tool is a Planet Jr. Wheel Cultivator (for prices and descriptions, see back pages).

Kennerly's XXX Strain, French-Grown Self-blanching Celery

These are as good as an extra hand on any truck farm or home garden. As soon as your Celery is about 12 inches high, put the boards to it to blanch it, and in ten days or two weeks it is ready to ship. Pack in Celery crates.

We are Florida truckers of five years' experience, and we know what we are talking about.

Premo, Country Gentleman and Stowell's Evergreen Corn

SWEET CORN

CULTURE.—Plant your first Sweet Corn in January, and from then until April. Use either commercial or stable fertilizer, but use in addition to either, 150 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre. Drill the seed in rows, 3 to 4 feet apart. If the birds pull it up, put tar on the seed. After your corn gets up out of the reach of cutworms, thin down to a single stalk every foot. If the bud worms bother it, spray it with arsenate of lead, about 1 to 1½ pounds to 50 gallons of water. For ear worms, dust powdered sulphur on the silks as soon as formed. Set plants 14 x 14 inches, or 16 x 16 inches. Lettuce thrives best with plenty of cultivation with a good Planet Jr. Wheel Cultivator (see cover page). Florida Red Ball Radishes

Remember this: You can buy cheaper seed than we quote, but you cannot buy the quality anywhere a cent cheaper. Our motto is "Not How Cheap, but How Good." You may save fifty cents a pound on seed, but in doing so, lose $100 on your crop. It takes the same labor and fertilizer to grow a crop from poor seed that it does from good seed, and you don't get the same price for poor vegetables that you do for good ones. Our seed is grown for Florida planting and it is the best that money can buy.

TOMATOES

One-fourth pound
to the acre

CULTURE.—Plant for fall in July and August and for spring from December until March, in hotbeds or under canvas frames, and set in the field as soon as danger of frost is past. Set 3 feet by 3½ feet apart. Tomatoes thrive best when given plenty of cultivation, and quite a lot of fertilizer strong in potash. For Tomato worms get “Kant-Klog” sprayers and use arsenate of lead. For blight, spray with Bordeaux mixture, but not after the fruit has begun to form, as it spots. Ammoniacal copper will not stain the fruit. We can furnish all kinds of prepared spray mixtures and insecticides.

The Southern Cultivator

Has for sixty-seven years stood for the best in Southern agriculture ; encouraging the full development of the farm ; stimulating the planting of a variety of crops, and not going crazy about cotton ; advocating the intensive system and the utilization of all the resources of each individual farm ; instructive in reading matter ; clean in advertisements ; relying upon a well-pleased reader for its support ; not given away or sent to any names secured ; not using schemes to secure subscribers, but, as in the words of a subscriber and friend, "THE SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR is conservative and yet progressive." It appeals to every one interested in Southern farming.

THE SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR is now really helping thousands of Southern farmers to grow better crops, and to raise more and better live stock. Its strong and instructive editorials and "Timely Suggestions" by the Editor, Mr. G. F. Hunnicutt, "Letters From the Field," "Inquiries," "Farmers' Union," by W. L. Stallings ; "Farm Home," "Cousins' Corner," "Gardening," "Horticulture," "Dairying," by W. L. Williamson, the most successful dairyman in the South ; articles on "Truck Farming in Florida," by a practical Florida trucker, "Poultry and Live Stock Departments" are of intense interest to all Southern farmers. Dr. A. M. Soule, J. H. McClain, Loring Brown, and H. P. Stucky are regular contributors ; all of these with contributions of actual experience of the growers of the largest yields of Southern crops, must of necessity make THE SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR of vital interest to all thinking Southern farmers.

This paper should be in every Florida home, and we will help put it there, by giving it away absolutely free, for one year, with your first $1.50 seed order.

A FINE SPECIMEN OF HYDRANGEA OTAKSA

The plant shown herewith stood 5 feet high and measured 8 feet across, and had 75 flowers and buds on it, shading in color from white up through delicate pink, bright pink, to lavender, when this photograph was taken. The fact that it is an evergreen and perfectly hardy and stays in bloom for from 8 to 12 weeks makes it one of the most desirable ornamental plants that can be grown in Florida. To have it do its best it should be planted in good rich soil and in a partial shade. It is particularly adapted for planting around porches or in corners made by steps and porch where it has a northern exposure. Hydrangeas cannot stand the real hot sun and require quite a lot of water, but after twenty years' experience with them in this state, we know of nothing in the hardy ornamental flowering line that we can recommend more strongly.

We can supply plants of this variety from 3-inch pots, at 25c.; 4-inch, 50 cts.; 5-inch, 75 cts.; 6-inch, at from $1 to $1.50, f. o. b. express. As the plants are grown in pots, they can be transplanted at any time without risk.
