BULB CULTURE: How and when to plant

BULBS can be planted out of doors any time between, say, the 15th of October and November 15th. They do best in a fairly stiff, well-drained soil, but any good garden soil will grow them very well. Select, if possible, a warm, sunny and sheltered position, although they will grow well in almost any place except low, damp ground. The soil should be deeply dug, a little bone meal added and thoroughly mixed in. To have a brilliant effect, bulbs must be planted rather thickly. Hyacinths, Tulips, Narcissus and bulbs of similar size should be planted five or six inches apart and five inches deep, measuring from the bottom of the bulb. Crocuses, Scillas and smaller bulbs should be planted three inches apart and three inches deep. All bulbs in collections No. 1, 3, 4 and 5 are very hardy and require no protection.

- (A) 150 W. & D's Select Darwin Tulips, $2.00
 (B) 60 W. & D's Select Darwin Tulips, $1.00

*The most exquisite race of all
 May-flowering Tulips*

A strong growing race of Tulips, with large, perfect, cup-shaped, brilliantly colored flowers, carried erect on long, stiff stems, averaging 2 feet in height. Wonderfully showy in beds or in clumps in the herbaceous border or among shrubs.

Grown for cut flowers, they will prove very valuable at a time when the gardens yield so little to decorate our rooms. They flower during the middle part of May, when the Spring flowers are over and the Summer flowers, such as Peonies and Roses, have not yet come in. Their chief characteristics are the perfect cup-shape of the flowers and the blue, black or white coloring at the base of the petals inside of the flowers.

Another very characteristic quality of Darwins is that the color inside of the flower is just as bright as, and sometimes even brighter than, outside. This is why a Darwin remains beautiful, even when it is fully open or almost gone.

By slow forcing in pots, they may be had in bloom in March or even earlier. Most of the varieties improve in color by protection under glass or canvas. The list of varieties we offer is carefully selected and includes nothing but fine varieties. Write for our descriptive list of named varieties.
