 GLADIOLUS
 "KUNDERDI"

An original American introduction of utmost importance.

The most marvelous and beautiful Gladiolus ever produced.

Comes in several types, or races, and thousands of every shade or color.

Each petal is exquisitely ruffled or fluted, giving the flowers a refined appearance, equaled only by the finest orchids.

Acknowledged by Leading Authorities as the Greatest Advance Ever Achieved in the Development of this Most Beautiful of All Summer Flowering Bulbs.

A. E. KUNDERD, GOSHEN, IND.

A Brief Historical Sketch

THE NEW GLADIOLUS, "Kunderdi" Type, illustrated and described in this catalog, are the results of over twenty years of scientific crossing and selection.

An entirely new race, and with the the most distinct character of any, has been developed by recombinations of the best of the gladiolus species, with the finest of strains and varieties obtainable from all over the world.

The wavy or ruffled petals were the first object sought, but many wonderful varieties with the plain petals have been produced from this strain by the originator. The beautiful variety, "Mrs. Frank Pendleton," perhaps the premier of all gladiolus in the world today, in one of these.

We will not worry our readers with a long story of our own, but will give a few of the many fine testimonials we receive. At Chicago, Boston, Newport, New York and many other places in America, as well as abroad, where these new productions have been grown and exhibited, they have received the very highest praise and many awards.

If you want to grow something way out of the usual, it will interest you to carefully look over this catalog. On another page we will give you the best Cultural and Storage Notes.

Mr. Morton, whose testimonial we give on another page, in an historical review of Gladiolus Development in "The Modern Gladiolus Grower," says:

"All over the United States and Canada, hybridizers have been at work and many beautiful flowers have resulted. But only one man has succeeded in producing a new type, possessing characteristics entirely new. This is the new ruffled Gladiolus produced by A. E. Kunderd of Goshen, Indiana, and named by him Kunderdi type. The petals of this flower are ruffled and fluted like the petals of the newer sweet peas.

The results of Mr. Kunderd's work are very gratifying to Americans, as heretofore all the honors have been claimed by foreigners. The only family given an American name was originated in Germany and purchased and named by an American firm. But Mr. Kunderd has produced a sturdy race and there is scarcely a list offered anywhere in the world to the general public, excepting those, of course, offering exclusively the growers own bulbs, that does not contain some of his origin. Not only the ruffled type but many of the leading varieties in the other types are of his origin. One of the most popular and striking gladiolus of the present day is Mrs. Frank Pendleton, Jr., which was originated by Mr. Kunderd. Rajah is another variety that has always held top place and was sold to Mr. Montague Chamberlain of Boston. Last year Mr. Clark W. Brown of Ashland, Mass., swept away first prize on a new yellow named Mongolian, also originated by Mr. Kunderd."

Gladiolus Girls

"THOROUGHLY SATISFIED"

THE stately, showy plants of the Gladiolus, together with their magnificent and almost unlimited tints and color combinations, afford a revelation of beauty which no other flower can equal and, children as well as their parents will find them an object of continual admiration and pleasure. Help the young folks get a planting for themselves and it will make you happy just to see them enjoy their treasures.

A Few of Our Recent Productions

Which Have Won Highest Honors

“KUNDERDI GLORY” (Ruffled).

The first of a new race with waved or ruffled petals. Now catalogued by most of the leading American and foreign seedsmen. Awarded First Class Certificate of Merit, National Society of Horticulture, Paris; Mass. Horticultural Society, Boston; N. Y. Institute, New York City, and many other awards.

“MRS. FRANK PENDLETON” (Plain Petaled).

An extraordinary fine flower of gigantic bloom and vigor of plant. Mr. Fuld (in American Gladiolus Society Bulletin) says of it:—“I believe that when the quantity available will be sufficient to meet the demands for this variety, it will be the most popular Gladiolus for either the private garden or for a fancy commercial flower.”

“CHICAGO WHITE” (Plain Petaled).

Earliest and best forcing white for florists, as well as for garden culture. Sold to Vaughan's seed store.

“MYRTLE” (Plain Petaled).

Tender and delicate rose pink. “The most beautiful pink yet produced in a gladiolus.” Brings the highest price of any variety in the Chicago market. Awarded Silver Medal by the Mass. Horticultural Society, Boston, etc.

“RAJAH” (Plain Petaled).

Awarded Silver Medal by the Mass. Horticultural Society. Sold to Montague Chamberlain of Boston.

“IDA VAN” (Plain Petaled).

Received an Award of Merit from the National Gladiolus Society of England, London. Also took first at Cleveland at the Ohio Gladiolus Society exhibit, August, 1913, as best red.

“MONGOLIAN” (Plain Petaled).

Received a First Class Certificate of Merit from Mass. Horticultural Society, August, 1913; also first as the best yellow at the Ohio Gladiolus Society exhibit at Cleveland. Sold to Clark W. Brown, Ashland, Mass.

“RED AMARILLAS”.

Awarded First for best red at the Society of American Florist's Convention and American Gladiolus Society's Exhibition at Boston, August, 1914.

Also: “MRS. W. E. FRYER,” sold to W. E. Fryer, Mantorville, Minn.

“FAIRIE” and “GAIETY,” sold to Cushman Gladiolus Co., Sylvania, Ohio.
And many others.

Two New Ruffled "Kunderdi" Type

No. 163 (6-in. Across)

No. 53 (R. W. & G.)

Two New Ruffled (Kunderdi" Type), of most extraordinary vigor and beauty. Now offered for the first time.

No. 163. Tall. A giant bloom, six inches across. Very velvety, glowing dark red with an almost black throat. A wonderfully waved and ruffled petaled variety. A show in itself. Only one bulb to a customer this season. Price, each, $2.00.

No. 53. RED, WHITE AND GOLD.—A giant in plant and foliage, with a massive spike and large flowers. Upper portion of bloom, pure white. Lower petals entirely of a rich lemon yellow clear to the edge, with a beautiful pelargonium-like blotch of richest red on each. Not over three bulbs to a customer this season. Price, each, $1.00

A Few Testimonials

"Ruffled" is in bloom. Grand does not begin to express it. It is the "sans pareil" of all gladioli.

L. MERTON GAGE,

Ex-Secretary of American Gladiolus Society.

DR. W. VAN FLEET, Expert in charge of U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, formerly the great Horticultural Editor of the Rural New Yorker, Originator of Princeps, etc., says:

"I am glad to hear of your continued success with the ruffled gladiolus. The one you sent me two years ago is very beautiful indeed; good color, fine spike and substance, and exquisite in finish. I should regard it as an excellent garden variety."

S. E. SPENCER, Boston, Mass., Member American Gladiolus Society, speaking of "ruffled" says: "They are the wonder of the whole neighborhood" etc., etc.

S. F. MORTON, of the Evening Express Publishing Co., Portland, Maine, (also member of the American Gladiolus Society), says in a recent letter:

"I never saw such fine flowers in a mixture. I had bulbs from all over the world, but with those you sent me, and others of your growing I had from other dealers, your bulbs showed the most beauty and variety, and were wonderful in their vigor and productiveness. Two of your varieties alone were worth the whole season's work, but as the summer progressed, and "Myrtle," "New Garden Pink" (Summer Beauty) and many others that had your name attached came along, I was really proud that on this side of the water we we could hold our end up so well. I was especially struck by the showing yours made alongside of others, not only in beauty and size of blossoms, but in the sturdy health of your plants which seemed to be universal."

JOS. A. EIBEL, of Lancaster Pa., under date of Sept. 13, 1914, writes as follows regarding our New Gladiolus:

MR. A. E. KUNDERD,

Dear Sir:—Last spring I sent you an order for some Gladiolus Bulbs. When the express man left the box of bulbs at the house, I examined them and will say they were the finest lot of Gladioli Bulbs that I ever received from any person, and I have bought from a good many persons, and such a generous and very liberal number of extras it contained was more than I expected, for which I thank you very much. I planted them and they have had the best of cultivation, this being such very favorable season it required no watering save a few times in the early season. All of them bloomed beautifully and this is what I think of them: I had grown "Kunderdi Glory" two seasons previous and did not know there was such a person as A. E. Kunderd until I received a copy of "The Modern Gladiolus Grower" which led me to you.

This year I had the pleasure of having five more varieties of your ruffled gladiolus, which I claim are the real aristocrats of the Gladiolus family, bloom in my garden. The new ones this year were "White King," "White Glory," "Pride of Goshen," "Youell's Favorite" and "Mottled Beauty." All of them are handsome. My favorites are "White Glory" and "Mottled Beauty," which is the largest and strongest bloomer of them all. In red I had five of your varieties, viz: "Gov. Hanley," "Cardinal King," "Cherry King," "Ida Van," and "Mrs. W. E. Fryer." The first three were gifts from you. All of them are good. My selection of these reds is "Gov. Hanley." It is a deep red with the least markings in throat. "Ida Van" is a handsome large, wide, open flower, somewhat on the order of "Mrs. Francis King," only a deeper shade. In pink, from you, I had "Myrtle," which is an angelic heavenly flower. Then I had "Mrs. Frank Pendleton," which is a gorgeous flower, "delicious," "good enough to eat." Will want some more of these, and last but not least, is "Marble Barred," which is a tall and branching variety which I admired very much. I am cranky on Gladioli. My garden space is limited, so I can only grow a certain number and since it does not cost any more labor in the garden to grow good ones than it does poorer ones, I like to have the best, so I want you to keep my name on your list for your next catalog.

TESTIMONIALS OF TWO WORLD RENOWNED HORTICULTURISTS

MATHEW CRAWFORD

Author of "The Gladiolus," and Dean of the Gladiolus Fraternity, whose judgment is deferred to by all who know him, says:

"I have grown Kunderdi New Ruffled Gladioli for several years, and am charmed with them." They are immensely more beautiful than the plain."

Again: "Mr. Kunderd was the first man in the world to produce Ruffled Gladioli by scientific methods."

Again: "I have very great faith in the future of your Ruffled Gladioli and expect them to become very popular."

Sincerely yours,

MATHEW CRAWFORD.

LUTHER BURBANK

"The Wizard of Horticulture"

Santa Rosa, California,

Nov. 22, 1910.

The Ruffled Gladiolus which you sent me last spring ("Kunderdi" Glory) bloomed nicely this summer. It is a fine, light color, elegantly ruffled, and a strong, healthful grower.

The Ruffled Gladiolus, like the ruffled sweet peas, have a refined appearance which the common flat ones do not possess.

Yours very truly,

LUTHER BURBANK.

Why We Catalog Only Our Own Productions

AS WILL be recognized at a glance, we have produced entirely new races of gladiolus with the most distinct characteristics of any. This is the result of over twenty years of research, collection, cross-breeding and development. Thousands of these new varieties are now being tested and propagated, and the finest will be offered to our customers each following year.

In order to produce the utmost possible results in perfecting our labors and giving our friends the best, we do not spare any of our time in growing the standard varieties and other strains, excepting in a small way for our own comparisons.

There are many other choice varieties produced by prominent specialists of these beautiful flowers, and we are very happy indeed to see them all enjoying the success of their well deserved popularity. Naturally we keep in touch with the leading growers and specialists, and will gladly assist any of our friends to obtain any variety, not in our lists, at current prices, or we will be pleased to direct you to other growers from whom you can procure them.

NEW PRIMULINUS HYBRIDS

The following new Primulinus Hybrids are all of our own recent production, now offered for the first time. They are the results of crossing with "Kunderdi Glory," and many other of our best ruffled and plain petaled varieties, with Primulinus Species. Some have ruffled petals, some plain and some intermediate.

No other strain of Primulinus Hybrids compares with these, no others are like them. The most beautiful and delicate pastel tints are found among them, and no race of gladiolus contains such harmonious blendings of color.

The Entire Collection, 16 Varieties, correctly labeled, for $18.00

Our strain from which the above selection was made, won the $10.00 Gold Prize, offered by Mr. C. Betscher for "the best collection of Primulinus species and its hybrids," at the American Florist's Convention in Chicago, two years ago. Obtains its unusual vigor of plant and substance of flower from our "Kunderdi" strain, and its rapid increase makes the first cost but a small consideration.

The Primulinus

No. 21. "PRIMUNELLA."

Wonderful New Ruffled Primulinus Hybrids ("Kunderdi" Type). As life-like as a butterfly; as graceful as an orchid. The Primulinus is the richest pure, all yellow, of the species. Its hybrids are of the most graceful in spike and arrangement of flower.

Mixtures, Collections and Special Offers

In Mixtures we offer but two selections. One, our "Fancy Mixture" is made up of only the finest selections from many thousands of our own recent productions of large flowered varieties, and contains hundreds of kinds equal to the best named. It also embraces numerous ruffled as well as some of our own choice named varieties. In colors, the finest of light and pastel shades, as well as all of the richest selfs, blotched etc., in every magnificent and gorgeous combination conceivable are represented. This is the mixture spoken of by Mr. Morton on another page. We have had many such fine testimonials for this collection, and I am certain it can not be equaled elsewhere. As we have now a fair sized stock of these, they are offered at the very moderate price of $6.50 per 100. $50.00 per 1000.

New Hybrids of Primulinus in Mixtures. This is a very select mixture from the new strain, described elsewhere in this catalog. All were produced by crossing Primulinus species with the finest of our own recent productions. Some of them are "ruffled", but most of them have plain petals, and are quite distinct from any other strain of these beautiful new hybrids. Large bulbs produce several, and often three to five spikes of bloom, and increase rapidly.

75c per dozen. $5.00 per 100.

Special Collections and Mixtures will be made up for any of our customers who wish our aid in deciding which to plant. Nothing can make a finer present to a relative or friend than a collection of choice gladiolus. In all cases please state choice of colors, varieties you have grown, and amount you wish to invest. Also, if you wish to obtain the largest number of varieties for the money, or a smaller number of the best ones.

Our bulb crop is especially fine this season, and our sandy loam soil is suited for growing the best possible bulbs.

Small orders are filled with as much pleasure as large ones.

Extra catalogs will be sent free, if asked for, as an aid to growers.

We will gladly help any of our friends (whether you buy of us or not), who wish to buy any gladiolus bulbs not listed in this catalog, to secure the same from reliable sources. Also: If we can give any further cultural aid, we will gladly do so gratis. You need not enclose a stamp for reply.

TERMS, ETC.

Please send all remittances with orders. Send by Post Office or Express Money Orders, Draft or Certified Checks. 1c or 2c stamps may be sent in payment of orders for less than $1.00.

Planting, Culture, Storage, Etc.

Although no flower gives more satisfaction than the Gladiolus, with ordinary care and culture in average soils, it readily responds to high culture, and the superior blooms produced by special attention amply repay for the additional care. Only those who have seen the Gladiolus at its best can realize the vast difference between those produced by first-class methods, and those less carefully grown. We strongly advise our friends to employ the best cultural methods possible under their conditions.

PLANTING AND CULTURE. If possible use new location, or soil, each season, so that bulbs are not planted oftener than every third year in the same ground. It is advantageous to spade in a good covering of manure late in the fall preceding the plantings to follow. In the spring when the soil is in proper condition, spade and pulverize thoroughly. At planting time, only well rotted manures or high grade potato fertilizers should be used. For long blooming season, plant at intervals of about two weeks from first garden making time, until the middle or latter part of June. Bulbs can be planted four inches deep and over in mellow soils, and four to eight inches apart in the row. The deeper planting will keep the plants from falling over at blooming time. Liquid fertilizer or prepared sheep manure can be applied to the soil near the rows once every week or ten days, care being exercised not to make the applications too strong. Frequent thorough waterings of the soil in the beds (not the plants) at evenings is a wonderful stimulant, and gives the blooms much greater sun resistance and lasting qualities. Keep the soil well worked, and frequently, especially early the next forenoon after being watered the previous evening. Always keep a soil crust from forming in the rows or among the plants. After blooming spikes begin to show, cultivate only about two inches deep.

BLOOMING. For best results, cut the spikes when the first flowers open and bloom in the house. Each morning remove wilted blossoms, cut off a little of the stems, rinse, and give fresh water. Placing them in a cool cellar over night greatly refreshes and improves them.

Many beautiful designs can be made, either with tips of spikes or single blossoms, in rounds, ovals, fans etc., in plates, pans, vases or shallow dishes and other suitable receptacles.

If good bulbs are desired for the following year, four to five strong leaves should be left on the plants when cutting the spikes.

STORING. Bulbs should be dug before the plants are too ripe. In the fall, before hard frosts, dig the bulbs and cut off the tops. Dry well in the air and sunshine, cure thoroughly in-doors for a few weeks, then store in a cool, dry, cellar, cover with sand, and keep from frost.

A Few More Testimonials

FROM WELL KNOWN AUTHORITIES

MR. E. T. FLANNAGAN, Belleville, Ill., (Gladiolus Specialist), writes:

"There is no comparison between your gladiolus and older kinds, for your new varieties are incomparably the best."

Again: "It is a real pleasure to deal with a man like you. And I am not flattering you. I get more than value received every time."

MISS GRACE RESHORE, (Librarian), Dowagiac, Mich., a very well known amateur, writes:

"Your gladiolus have no equal. They certainly are in a class by themselves."

MR. F. G. YULE, Vice-President of C. S. Harrison's Select Nurseries, of York, Nebraska, writes:

"I have had the gladiolus on my own grounds for a number of years and was perfectly satisfied with my flowers, until I saw yours; then I made up my mind I had never yet seen gladiolus. The nursery considers their gladiolus acquisition as so much "pure gold."

MR. E. H. CUSHMAN, Sylvania, Ohio, one of the oldest growers, and a leading authority, on March 9, 1912, writes:

"What you are doing is probably the most important work on the gladioli ever undertaken. I consider it much ahead of anything Mr. ——— has done."

MR. J. H. SKINNER, Publisher of "The Austin Herald," Austin, Minn., on Dec. 4, 1914, writes:

"The bulbs I got from you last spring were the most successful I ever planted. The flowers were more beautiful than any floral catalog,—if this means much in these days of fancy printing."

MR. B. F. STALNAKER, Brooklyn, New York, writes:

"Your "Myrtle" is simply exquisite—unsurpassed, considering flower, color, placement on spikes, etc. My favorite size and everything, and I've seen most all varieties."

Similar letters in praise of these wonderful New Gladiolus, in both ruffled and plain petals, are coming from experts and amateurs from all over the world.

Our stock of bulbs is the finest this season we have ever grown, and you will have the start of any variety before it becomes plentiful, by buying now. When the increase is considered which can be grown from a bulb in a few years, the first cost is of little consideration.

We will greatly appreciate any reports, and especially, fine photos from any varieties you have bought of us, and will gladly send special collections of bulbs for any of these we can use for half-tones in our 1916 catalog. All other photos will be returned.
